AUTO CRASH IS FATAL

POSTAL CLERKS END SUCCESSFUL CONVENTION HERE

BUY OIL, ROGERS ADVISES, IF THIS REFUELING GOES ON

(Special To The News)

LOS ANGELES, July 23. — My friend, Mr. Brisbane, is always tipping us off what to buy on the stock market. Well, I got one for you. Buy oil. There is enough refueling going on in the air to consume millions of gallons.

If they take the census while this refueling craze is on, this country will show a loss.

If a couple of guys break a record, they only hold it till they get shaved.

The thing looks to me not so much a test of an engine as it is a test of how long two birds can stay cooped up together and remain friends.

Yours.
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

New Castle Postal Clerks in charge of arrangements for the state convention just concluded here, did an excellent piece of work. They have added their bit towards making New Castle known far and wide throughout the state as one of the leading convention cities of Pennsylvania.

The public square is in fine condition. The street department, or the parks department, in charge of this breathing spot is entitled to credit for an excellent accomplishment. The diamond at the present time is quite appealing and puts up a good appearance for the hundreds of visitors coming through the city.

Pa Newc noted a license on a car last night, "E-7". It was a New York license plate. Wouldn't have any difficulty remembering that license.

Curb lights on North Mercer street, are showing up much better lately. Whether the globes have been cleaned or new lamps placed in them Pa Newc has not been informed, but they are appearing much better.

Several members of the Central Fire Department, whiling away their time off today, in fishing from the old Rosena dam. They were not overly successful while they were under the observation of Pa Newc, but they seemed possessed with infinite patience. It was reported that a good sized bass was pulled from the hole below the dam last evening.

Pa Newc noticed an auto being driven about town this morning, bearing a British Columbia license plate, which was a long way from home.

Pa Newc had an unusual and interesting experience in the past few days in passing the Fountain Inn, when he observed three machines parked side by side, one bearing a Japanese license plate, the second a Chinese license plate and the third one from Texas. Just naturally rubbed my eyes to make sure I was not mistaken.

New Castle's next convention is that of the True Ivorites. It will start here August 12. The estimated attendance is 250.

Pa Newc's latest addition to his auto license calendar is D-98,487.

Harvest is now universal. Despite a late season here and there, harvest at the present time seems to have arrived throughout. In this county, wheat and hay are being cut and have been in the process of harvest for some time. Farmers coming in to River stage, 4.3 feet and falling.

Officers Named By Postal Clerks At Final Session

SELECT ERIE FOR 1930 CONVENTION

Woman's Auxiliary Also Holds Business Session and Elects Officers

Officers were elected by the Pennsylvania State Federation of Post Office Clerks at their concluding business session in The Castleton Monday afternoon when Thomas E. Donegan of New Castle was signally honored by being re-elected secretary and treasurer for the coming year. Erie was chosen as the place for the 1930 convention.

The complete list of officers follows:

New Officers.

President, William L. Hagle of Erie; first vice president, Charles Rupp of Allentown; second vice president, John Flynn of Scranton; third vice president, Margaret Young of McKees Rocks; fourth vice president, R. G. Rutherford of Doylestown; fifth vice president, A. W. Burkert of Reading; sixth vice president, Curden M. Higley of Harrisburg; secretary and treasurer, Thomas L. Donegan of New Castle; state representative to the national office, Thomas E. McCann of Scranton; delegate to the national convention at New York September 1-7, Harry D. Shaffer of Kittanning; alternate, Ansel F. Crane of Pittsburgh.

Many resolutions were adopted at the concluding session, advocating remedial legislation for the betterment of conditions among the postal clerks throughout the state and nation.

Protest Weighing System.

Protest of the weighing system as used in the Philadelphia office and the other larger cities of the nation was made the paramount issue of the convention. Under this system, postal clerks are required to sort 30 pounds of mail every hour that they are on duty, and their efficiency is rated on this basis. Letters average between 55 and 60 the pound, meaning that the clerks where the weighing system is in vogue are required to handle approximately 1,700 letters every hour.

Other resolutions advocated establishment of a 44-hour week for postal clerks, longevity in pay whereby clerks would automatically receive an increase of $100 per year at the end of ten years of service and $100 each

Banquet Concludes Convention Of State Post Office Clerks

Congressman J. Howard Swick Is Principal Speaker At Event In The Castleton

National Officers Explain Remedial Legislation Advocated By Federation

Sessions of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Post Office Clerks were concluded last evening with one of the finest banquets ever held in the city, in the Castleton.

Richard A. Steen presided as toastmaster, which task he accomplished in a most satisfactory manner, proving that post office clerks are just as efficient at the dinner table as they are in dispatching the mails.

Hundred Fifty Attend.

Close to 150 members of the federation and their guest were in attendance, Congressman J. Howard Swick of Beaver county being the principal speaker of the evening. Congressman Clyde Kelly of Braddock, who had been expected to attend, was unable to be presnt.

The invocation was pronounced by Rev. J. C. Williamson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church. Special musical numbers were rendered during the evening by the Castle Singers, while Mrs. Horace Evans favored with a piano selection, and W. C. H. Mathews rendered several selections on the musical saw. A special feature was a reading by Mrs. Caroline Stevens of Pittsburgh.

HARRISBURG, July 23.—The bond clause in the four-cent gasoline tax law passed by the last legislature is facing the acid test.

A suit in equity to test the constitutionality of the clause is to be started tomorrow in the Dauphin county court when counsel for the two leading retailers' associations in the state plan to file a petition claiming the provision that requires dealers to give bonds for $500 and upwards is extralegal.

Extra Guards At New York Prison, Riot Is Probed

Officials Of New York "Toughest" Prison Investigate Serious Break Monday

Convict Leader Of Revolt Is Killed; Property Damage Estimated At $200,000

(International News Service)

DANNEMORA, N. Y., July 23.—Extra guards today patrolled the walls Dannemora, New York state's "toughest" prison, while state authorities launched a searching investigation of the riot and attempted delivery of 1,300 convicts from the gloomy fortress yesterday.

The investigation was conducted by Raymond C. Kieb, commissioner of corrections, at Albany.

Warden Harry Kaiser said that Harold F. Brunner, 33, one of the three convicts killed, was the ringleader of the revolt, and that a desperate group of 108 convicts serving life sentences instigated the riot. Brunner was a native of Tioga, Pa.

Ringleader Killed.

"After the men had rushed into the prison yard," the warden said, "Brunner yelled to the others to make a break for freedom and kill everyone who tried to stop them. A guard shot Brunner dead just as he was about to brain Keeper Murphy with an ax."

The other two victims, Herman Reese, 45, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Clyde Shakelford, 30, of Albany, were shot down by the machine gun fire and shotgun fire of the guards. The convicts, armed with hammers, chisels and knives, formed human pyramids and tried to scale the twenty-foot

Soviets And Chinese May Reach Peaceful Agreement Through Arbitration

BELIEVE WAR CLOUDS HAVE DISAPPEARED

Would Either Have League Of Nations Or Signatory Nations To Kellogg Pact Decide

By HARRY R. FLORY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 23.—In one of those overnight changes characteristic of events in the Far East, the crisis between China and Soviet Russia assumed a phase today that seemed to admit of satisfactory arbitration.

While quiet reigned on the Manchurian border in place of the furious war fever which had existed until forty-eight hours ago, the wheels of diplomacy began to turn in an effort to bring to an end the dispute which has threatened to disrupt the peace of the world.

At almost the same time that China and Russia were replying favorably in Washington to Secretary of State Stimson's intervention in the matter, the Nanking government announced its willingness to submit the dispute to an international body for arbitration and settlement.

The Nationalist government stated that either the League of Nations, or a special body composed of the Nations signatory to the Kellogg Pact, would be regarded as a satisfactory tribunal for settlement of the issue.

Hope For Peace

To this end, the Nanking government, according to dispatches reaching here, sent another note to the Soviets, reiterating its desire for a peaceful settlement and proposing negotiations to arbitrate the dispute.

In view of this attitude, combined with the Soviet and Chinese messages to Washington promising to abide by the terms of the Kellogg Pact for the renunciation of war, it appeared today that in spite of all the sinister reports from the Far Eastern Theatre during the last week, the matter would be peacefully settled.

Soviet Russia has barred the offer of the French government to act as mediator in the dispute, but it is firmly believed she would be willing to place the issue before a neutral congress of nations for arbitration.

Ready To Arbitrate

Moscow, July 23.— Russia is preparing to arbitrate the dispute with China over seizure of the Chinese Eastern railway, but China must first comply with "preliminary conditions" to mediation, it was emphatically stat-

FILM BEAUTIES LOSE TO AVIATRIX

Although hundreds of movie girls pass through the divorce mill of Los Angeles every year, the most beautiful divorcee of the year is not a film queen, but an aviatrix. This is the opinion of newspaper men who say they get accustomed to gazing in hardened impartiality on feminine beauty and therefore are qualified to pick the "most beautiful" accurately. Anyway, this is Alice Eagan, the aviatrix who got the newspaper vote as the "most beautiful" over the professional movie beauties.

German Liner Is Holder Of Best Atlantic Time

German Lloyd Liner Bremen, Completes Fastest Trip From Europe To New York

SAILING RECORDS STAND SHATTERED

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 23.—With the mythical blue pennant of the Atlantic figuratively tossing from her top mast, the Bremen, fastest of ocean ships, lay at her berth in Brooklyn today, as hundreds sought admittance to the pier to view the new champion of the waves.

The pennant was given over to her in a telegram of congratulation from the Cunard liner Mauretania's crew, shortly after the North German Lloyd had completed her maiden voyage which lowered the record of the fast Cunarder by eight hours and 52 minutes.

She docked at 6:05 p. m. last night, landing European passengers in America within five days of their starting—also a record. The Bremen beat the fastest day's run of the Mauretania on four successive days when she steamed 687, 704, 705 and 713 nautical miles.

The fastest speed, according to Captain Leopold Ziegenbein, the master, was 29.5 knots, from noon Sunday to noon yesterday with a current slightly favoring the ship.

Another record was made by the Bremen with the assistance of a seaplane. The fastest delivery of European mail was made when a seaplane was catapulated from her deck while the liner was 20 miles east of Fire Island and mail was delivered in New York before the ship had docked.

Ready To Start Dr. Snook's Trial

Columbus Professor Goes On Trial For Girl's Murder Wednesday

INDICATE DEFENSE WILL BE INSANITY

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, O., July 23.—On the eve of the trial of Dr. James H. Snook for the murder of Miss Theora Hix, 24-year-old Ohio State university co-ed, there was every indication today that the scholarly professor's defense will be insanity of the "uncontrollable impulse" form.

The 49-year-old deposed college professor is expected to contend that he beat the girl to death and slashed her throat while in the throes of an uncontrollable impulse which he does not understand—even today.

On Trial Tomorrow.

Dr. Snook goes on trial tomorrow before Judge Henry L. Scharlett in criminal court, less than six weeks after the murder was committed.

Preparations reminiscent of such famous trials as the Hall-Mills case at Somerville, N. J., the Remus trial at Cincinnati and the Snyder-Gray trial at Long Island City were being made at the courthouse this morning. A dozen or more telegraph and telephone wires were strung into the courtroom anteroom and seats were marked off for 33 correspondents from all parts of the state and country.

The ever-recurring report that a sensation may be sprung at the trial of Snook to the effect that a third party witnessed the crime was knocked in the head today when counsel for the defense stated that no credence is given to the rumor of an "accomplice".

No Accomplice.

"I am satisfied that Dr. Snook had no accomplice," said E. O. Ricketts, one of the defendant's attorneys. "I have dismissed that possibility from my mind after a long talk with Dr. Snook."

This procedure, if adhered to, will dispose of the theory that Snook, in confessing the crime, did not tell the whole story and that he was "shielding someone."

Defense attorneys insist that no "new motive" defense will be submitted at the trial. They assert that the defense will be made "as simple as possible". It is expected that the defense will hinge around a hairline distinction between "legal insanity" and "medical insanity."

The prosecution, meanwhile, went ahead with its plans. Prosecuting Attorney John J. Chester, Jr., has called 35 witnesses to report at the courthouse on Friday. It is likely that by that day the jury will have been selected and the evidence begun.

New Castle Machine Collides Head-on With Oil Company Car

One New Castle man is dead and another is believed to be in a dying condition at the Butler City Hospital, as a result of an automobile accident about four o'clock Monday afternoon on the Slippery Rock-Butler highway at Muddy Creek church. Their machine was wrecked in a head on collision with another car on the hill and curve at the scene of the accident.

The Dead

Carl D. Lutton, 28, 411 Cascade street, died in the Butler City hospital at eight o'clock Monday night. Skull crushed and arm broken in three places.

The Injured

George Cage, aged 45, 1025 Dewey avenue, in a very serious condition at the Butler City hospital. Recovery considered doubtful. Unconscious. Skull fractured and jaw broken in two places.

Messrs. Lutton and Cage left this city Monday in a Ford machine belonging to Robert Cage, 210 West Sheridan avenue, a brother of George Cage. They had no particular destination, having merely gone for a ride.

About four o'clock Monday afternoon, they reached the hill and curve near Muddy Creek church, ten miles north of Butler on the Butler-Slippery Rock improved highway.

Meet Head On

They were travelling in the direction of Slippery Rock, when their machine met in a head-on collision with the car of the Hadassah Oil Company driven by a Mr. Strance.

The wilds of Canada call to some, and the west beckons others on, and they rave of the beauty they see out there, and are restless until they are gone. Now the west has beauty I grant you that, and Canada has it's appeal, but here at home in your native state is scenery that is real. Do you crave the mountains, we have them folks, stately and mammoth and tall, dales that are charming, and silver streams, meado and water fall. And you need not go yer, far from home, if scenery you would see, for you have it here in the Keystone State, the weather is ninety-three.

Carnegie Rod And Gun Club Has Wonderful Lodge In County

There are places in Canada where one can camp, apparently thousands of miles away from civilization, where the warbling of birds is the only sound that breaks the stillness of a forest retreat, where brooks babble by one's camp, and there is a solitude that is refreshing.

But Canada is not alone in having such spots. Here in Lawrence County there are places, just as quiet, just as beautiful, and just as far removed, apparently, from the strife of the city streets. Here, too are spots where only the chatter of the blue jays or the cooing of the doves is the only noise to break the silence, where brooks babble their way by the cabin, and where the wily brook trout dares you to tempt him out of a shaded retreat under a water logged stump.

Carnegie Rod And Gun Club

There are many such spots in Lawrence County, but none that surpass the site of the Carnegie Rod and Gun Club for solitude, for ruggedness of beauty, for sheer picturesqueness. Perched on a hillside overlooking Taylor Run, the Carnegie men have a camp that is the envy of those fortunate souls who have been invited to visit it, a spot that exudes peace and rest and surcease from the cares that infest the day.

To get there one must do some dirt road travelling. Either the Plainsgrove road leading off from beyond Harlansburg or the Perry Highway out of Harlansburg and some connecting roads can be used. After driving several miles of dirt road, the trail leads down a lane that is overhung on either side with low hanging boughs, and suddenly the cabin looms dead ahead.

It's a big hut as such places go. In size it is 64x38 feet, with a spacious living room, a dining room, a kitchen, four bed rooms, and screened porches that can be used as augmented bed rooms. A power plant outside provides the light for the cabin, while pipes from springs provide clear, cool water.

Officials Very Much Puzzled In Gangster Killing

ALL CLUES ARE BEING CHECKED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 23. — Positive identification of the Italian victim of a gangland "ride" today was lacking, and a maze of clues was without a definite tieup as a result. Several new theories had been added to the suggestion that the man, believed to be Risorta Lazzaro of Cleveland, was shot to death in an automobile by members of a rival Italian band.

The Mafian angle, however, still was uppermost, Constable Chambers, of Vandergrift, had joined the investigators, in belief that the man's death may have been connected with a killing in that city a week ago. The county police had uncovered a suggestion that the man may have been identified with a feud that had taken the lives of a number of men in Sewickley Heights during the past five years.

Request Cleveland Aid

Cleveland police had been asked to aid in the identification today, in belief that the affairs of the Italian cliques here maye have been intermingled with those of gangs in midwestern cities. Addresses in Detroit and in various West Virginia points were being checked carefully. The addresses were found in the man's clothes.

The body of the man had been dumped beside the road in a deserted spot in Fern Hollow, Sewickley township. Almost the sole clue was that two months ago a man named Lazzaro lived in Sewickley and had not been seen since.

Phillip Goldberg, in charge of the investigation for the county police, admitted there was no evidence to indicate whether the man had been killed in Sewickley, Pittsburgh, or some other place.

Second Period Of Y. M. Camp Begins

Older Boys Start Camp Stay At At Y. M. C. A. Camp At Harlansburg

Today marked the start of the second period of the Y. M. C. A. summer camp located some two miles east of Harlansburg on the Slippery Rock creek. Some 35 boys of the first period remained for the present session. There are a half hundred boys enrolled at the camp.

The boys in the first period of the camp completed a great amount of interesting work. Trees in the district were named, birds named totalled 30, flowers 75, weeds 25, fungus 8, ferns 10, mosses 12, stone formations 15, bird calls 30, butterflies and moths 35.

Boys who started the camp period today will receive similar educational project work during their stay.

It hasn't rained now for almost a week and the rivers are gradually getting down to summer levels.

New Castle's Boy Scout banner, which was presented to the Boy Scouts now en route to England, got away to a flying advertising start. In a copy of the New York World which has come to The News is seen a picture of the boys on board the Samaritan just prior to sailing. The New Castle banner is in a prominent place and grouped around it can be seen a group of local lads.

CARNEGIE ROD AND GUN CLUB HAS WONDERFUL LODGE

pastoral, this scene from the cabin. Down the bank is Taylor Run, crooked, and placid and clear, winding crazily in and out, stopping now and then in pools it has washed out as a convention hall for brook trout, now cutting a straight line through a meadow and then rippling over a fall of stone. Down in the run the glassy perfection of the stream is broken now and then when some trout leaps out to grab off a fly for lunch, while schools of chubs and minnows race up and down.

The Rod and Gun Club land has 220 acres in it with hardly more than ten or fifteen yards the same. Across the run is a grove of sugar maples, tall and graceful, throwing out their leafy tops to the sun, and casting a filigreed shadow on the ground. There are giant oaks, running as large as six feet in circumference, beeches, chestnuts, a profusion of ferns, underneath.

On one part of the area is a spring fed run which goes along so far in its bed and then disappear into a subterrancan channel, only to reappear a quarter of a mile away in a cave. Out over the hill is some thirty acres of broom brush where now and then a startled rabbit bobs up as if in protest of the invasion of his home. Below, there is a bird sanctuary where birds find refuge from hawks and other birds of prey.

Never Ending Wonder

It's a never ending wonder, this Carnegie Rod and Gun Club camp. Part of it has never been explored, for there is about a mile of it in veritable jungle. Taylor Run goes through the property for a mile and a half.

Below the cabin there is a small playground for children, and the mound from which the kiddies' slide starts has a history back. It is not just a huge pile of dirt, it is the resting place of one of the old Lawrence County iron furnaces, discontinued about 1869. Here was the old Emery and Culbertson furnace which turned out iron for cannon balls for the Union troops. The level on which the cabin now stands was the loading platform and just a short distance away is the old slag dump where the furnace slag was thrown.

In these days Lawrence County used its own deposits of iron ore, low grade to be sure, but iron was made from it. The limestone under the ground was handy and the woods were heavy with timber. Those were the days of the charcoal iron masters and spots such as this one could well be marked so that future generations would know that here was one of the spots where the forerunner of the giant steel mills stood.

The Carnegie Rod and Gun Club is composed of officers and department heads of the Carnegie Steel Company. The members have given their time and their money to developing the camp site, not alone for recreational purposes, but as a bird and game refuge. In the winter the members go out through the snow and scatter feed for the birds and rabbits. In the summer they enjoy the trout fishing the run affords, and in the fall the rabbits are the game.

A remarkable spot, one that belies any nearness of civilization, a spot that rivals the west or Canada, a spot that every Rod and Gun Club member loves and his less fortunate friends envy.

BOND CLAUSE IN GAS TAX MEASURE WILL BE TESTED

Independent Oil Men's association and the Pennsylvania Gasoline Venders' association held a conclave here yesterday and plans for the proposed test suit were formulated at the meeting. Among the oil men present at the meeting were S. Kettering of Lebanon and David Wallmer of Lewistown.

Entire Bill Under Fire.

Although the suit is aimed primarily at the proviso calling for dealers to furnish a bond, members of the association expressed the belief that voiding of the entire tax measure may result if the bonding features found illegal.

Attorneys for the two organizations were completing the arguments contained in their petition today. The petition will contend that the law is unconstitutional and will ask that temporary injunctions be issued restraining the state from enforcing the disputed clause.

The bonding clause was inserted in the gasoline tax law with the avowed intention of protecting the state against dishonest dealers who, in past years, were alleged to have defrauded the commonwealth of $1,500,000 by failing to make tax payments. It is the contention of independent dealers that the small retailers are experiencing trouble in obtaining bonds of the type required by the law and that rigid enforcement of the clause would force 20,000 dealers out of business.

The bond required by the state is a corporate surety bond which, the dealers say, is the most difficult to obtain. Bonding companies demand collateral for the amount of the bond or proof of a business in some cases amounting to eight times the face value of the bond, according to the dealers, before issuing the surety.

Both organizations fought the bonding proviso and the one-cent tax increase while the bill was in passage and have signified their intention of continuing the battle with instructions to counsel to start the proceedings in equity to test the constitutionality of the bonding clause.

Applications for dealers' permits, together with blanks for bonds to accompany the applications, were mailed two weeks ago to every dealer in Pennsylvania. Under the law July 31 is the final date for filing the applications for bonds.

EXTRA GUARDS AT NEW YORK PRISON RIOT IS PROBED

stone walls. They lost heart after waging a hopeless battle for five hours, and gradually were herded back into their cells. Not a single prisoner escaped.

Twenty In Hospital.

Eighteen inmates and two guards were being treated in the prison hospital today for wounds suffered in the battle, and two workshop buildings and the prison lighting system were in ruins. The convicts fired the buildings to provide a smoke screen for their break. Property damage was estimated at $200,000.

For some time the inmates had complained about their food and overcrowded living quarters. Warden Kaiser said.

Worst Prison Riot

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., July 23.—The worst prison riot in the history of the state, which occurred at New York's "Siberia", the Clinton prison at Dannemora, in which three men were killed and 18 injured yesterday, was caused by refusal to grant prisoner's demands for shorter working hours, a half holiday every other day, better food and wages of $1.50 a day, it was revealed today.

It was learned that there was an incipient revolt at the prison, which is known as holding the toughest criminals in the world, last week. Warden Harry M. Kaiser quickly quelled the uprising and it is understood the demands were presented at that time.

There are 1,630 convicts in the prison and it is estimated that, between 1,000 and 1,200 participated in the riot which caused $200,000 damage. State officials expect that one result of the riot will be the doubling of the guards at all prisons.

A thing that nobody believes cannot be proved too often.—Bernard Shaw.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Helen Henle.

Mrs. Helen Henle, aged 53 years, widow of J. E. Henle, passed away at her home, 315 Pine street, Monday evening at 5:55 after an illness due to complications.

Mrs. Henle was born at Wampum May 20, 1876, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vallely. She was a member of St. Mary's church and was one of the best known women of this city.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. W. J. Cornan, and three sons, Frank, James and William Henle of this city, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. H. J. Nicholson, Mrs. J. F. Avery and Mrs. Patrick McCormick, Thomas, Frank, Alex, James and P. J. Vallely of New Castle. Her husband, the late J. E. Henle, to whom she was united in marriage 27 years ago, preceded her in death some time ago.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, July 25, at 8 a. m. from St. Mary's church. Burial will be made in St. James cemetery at North Sewickley.

Miss Martin Funeral.

Funeral services for the late Miss Mary Martin of Front street took place from St. Mary's church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The church was filled with many sorrowing friends and relatives.

Requiem high mass was celebrated with Rev. Fr. F. S. Clifford celebrant, Rev. Fr. Dudley Nee deacon and Rev. Fr. P. J. McKenna of St. Margaret's church sub-deacon. Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita was master of ceremonies.

Burial was made in St. Mary's cemetery and the pallbearers were Robert Guinaugh, John Newman, Thomas Maher, John Fulkerson, William Blattman and Hugh Hannon.

Many beautiful flowers sent by friends bore silent tribute to the high regard and esteem held for Miss Martin.

Mr. Jones Buried

Funeral services for the late Anderson Jones of 33 East street took place Monday afternoon at two o'clock from Rice's funeral chapel, with Dr. Charles B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, officiating.

The services were largely attended. The G. A. R. were present in a body. The casket was banked with many beautiful flowers expressing sympathy.

Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery and the pallbearers were B. S. Dodson, W. L. Howard, B. Pinkerd, L. Tanner, D. Miller and C. McNabb.

William Davis.

William Davis, aged 68 years of 103 South Ray street, died very suddenly at Wampum Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock.

Mr. Davis who was a blacksmith by trade became ill while at work. He went to that place where he was boarding about noon and was found dead some hours later sitting in a rocking chair. Coroner J. P. Caldwell was called and after making an investigation it was determined that death was the result of a stroke of paralysis.

He was born in Syracuse, Beaver county, Pa., 68 years ago. He came to New Castle when quite young and most of his life had been spent in this city. He was a member of the Church of God.

Besides his wife Margaret Kearney Davis to whom he was married 19 years ago he leaves the following children and step children: Mrs. Walter Steel of Toronto, O., Mrs. Bert Bingle, Albert Jordan, William Jordan and Frank Gordon of Ellwood City, Miss Helen Keating and Thos. Davis at home. He also leaves one grandchild and one great grandchild.

Mr. Fisher Funeral.

Funeral services for the late George W. Fisher of New Kensington, Pa., will be held Thursday, July 25 at 2 p. m. E. S. T. from the W. R. Campbell chapel in this city. Interment will be made in Oak Park mausoleum. Former services will also be conducted from his late residence in New Kensington Wednesday evening at 7:30 in charge of Dr. R. L. Lanning.

Mr. Fisher who was 74 years of age died after a few hours illness at his home, 627 Kimball avenue, New Kensington. He attended church on Sunday morning and about 8 p. m. was taken suddenly ill. He passed away Monday morning about 11 o'clock.

Mr. Fisher was well known in this community. He was born and raised near East Brook on the Fisher homestead and lived in that vicinity until about twenty years ago.

He was a former member of the Rich Hill Presbyterian church later uniting with the United Presbyterian church. At the time of his death he was a member of the Parnassus United Presbyterian church.

Beside his widow, Ellen Hill Fisher he leaves two sons, Raymond E., New Kensington and George Clifford of Nashville, Tenn., and one grandchild, Donna Dixon Fisher. He also leaves three brothers, Rev. Grant E. Fisher, D. D. of Turtle Creek, Willis Fisher of New Castle, Calvin Fisher of East Brook and two sister Miss Sylvina of New Castle and Miss Minera Fisher of Turtle Creek.

Mrs. Effie Hites.

Mrs. Effie Hites, aged 63 years, died today about 11:30 at her home, 25 West North street after an illness. The deceased is survived by two children.

Announcement of funeral will be made later.

Mrs. Eva Moyer Buck.

Mrs. Eva Moyer Buck, widow of Carl Buck, of Greenville, died at her cottage at Midway Bluff, Conneaut Lake, Sunday afternoon at 2:20 o'clock, at the age of 79 years, five months and 13 days. Death resulted from an accident in which she broke her arm, from which she never recovered.

The body was brought to the home of John J. Donaldson, of College avenue, Greenville where services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Private interment took place in Shenango Valley cemetery.

She was born in Sheakleyville, and is survived by one son, John P. Buck, New Castle, two daughters, Mrs Helen Buck Rogers, Janesville and Miss Carlotta Buck, Greenville.

Alleged Imposter Work At Bedford

Man Is Alleged To Have Posed As Electrical Inspector

Posing as an electrical inspector for the local Pennsylvania and Ohio company, a man has been gaining entrance to homes in the vicinity of New Bedford. Authorities are on the search of the man.

According to the description given by several parties, the man is light complected, about 5 feet, 7 inches tall wearing a blue sweater under a gray coat, wore a soft felt hat, and all but one of the upper teeth were missing. He was driving a light blue or green car.

The man posed as an inspector and in some cases is reported to have charged for repairs made on meters and other equipment.

The statement issued from the P and O. offices here indicate that all of their employes are in possession of full credentials and men should not be admitted into the homes without first producing them.

All home owners are warned to be on the lookout for a person of this type and appearance.

You can tell a member of the American proletariat. He doesn't give a darn if the caller is a government agent.

STAR LORE

SHOOTING STARS AND THE ATMOSPHERIC CUSHION

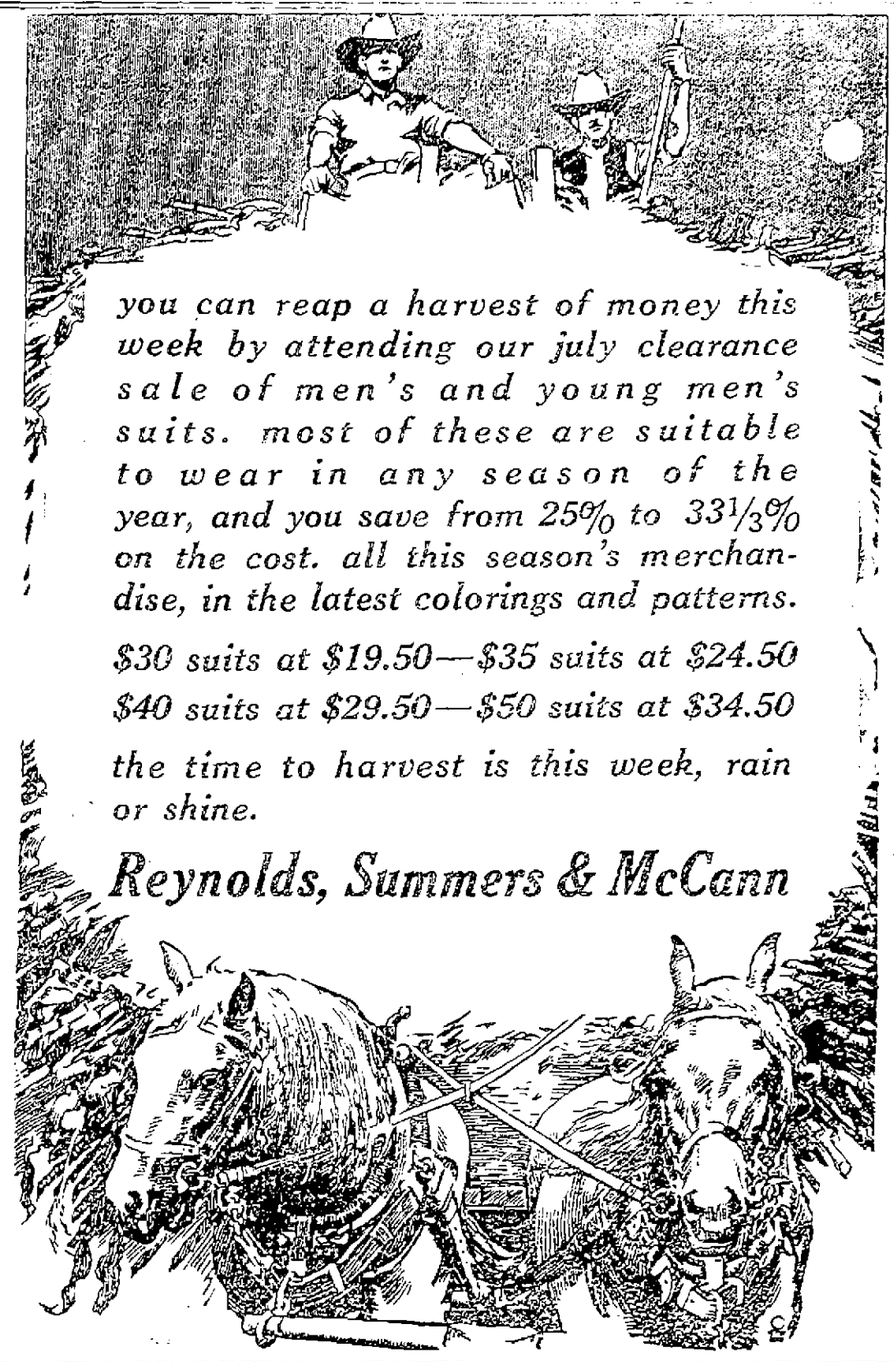

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter

The atmosphere serves as a great barricade to protect all life and things fragile, from continuous bombardment of shooting stars which otherwise would act as little bullets to wound and destroy. Shooting stars are very numerous. During every 24 hours several millions of them dash into the atmosphere from inter-planetary space. They fly at very high speed—30 to 40 miles per second. They are seen as fiery trails at altitudes of 70 miles, and usually disappear at altitudes of 50 miles. When they strike the atmosphere, their swift velocity generates friction sufficient to consume them, and they are quickly converted into harmless ashes and gas.

UNION LABEL

TO TAKE A CENSUS OF THE UNEMPLOYED

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE LAMONT has been having a talk with the advisory committee on the census of unemployment which is to be part of the information gathered in the forthcoming national enumeration. It is not going to be an easy job, as was developed by the discussion which took place among those who are supposed to be experts on the subject. What is needed more than anything else is co-operation on the part of employers. What the federal officials are trying to arrive at is a basis for distinguishing persons unemployed in the sense of being without a job, but physically able to work and hunting for it. One problem is whether to include those who hold "makeshift" jobs. A skilled mechanic out of work might mow lawns in order to earn a little money. Should he be classed with the unemployed?

Another thing to take into consideration is the number of persons physically unable to work. This does not mean those who are temporarily ill, but rather the permanently incapacitated by age or otherwise. The simple way would be to include only those who are able and willing to work and cannot get employment. There is no subject about which we have less reliable information than this one of unemployment. Figures are given out from time to time from official or unofficial sources, but they are for the most part estimates and subject to correction.

Unless all signs fail the coming census will be one of the most reliable we have ever had, and that means that the figures on unemployment, if not certain, will come nearer to the mark than anything we have had in the past.

TOO MANY HOME RUNS

BASEBALL FANS are complaining that too many home runs are being hit in the big leagues. There is a wide demand for the adoption of a less lively ball.

One unacquainted with the psychology of man would ridicule the thought that there would ever come a time when a baseball fan would cease to get a thrill out of a circuit clout and yet that very thing occurs almost daily during the season. Many league players hit so many home runs this year that the bleacherites are convinced a livelier ball is in use.

A thing ceases to be thrilling when it is repeated too frequently and home runs are quite as commonplace this year as singles. Every team in the two major leagues has contenders for the crown of the "king of swat" and considerable space is required in the sporting pages on the newspaper for recording the numerous home runs made every afternoon.

That which everybody can do is no achievement. It was once considered a feat to hit the ball over the fence or into the left field bleachers because it was something few could do. Nobody would play solitaire if everybody always won. Lovers of baseball would soon tire of their favorite game if their team never lost a game. It is the uncertainty and the suspense of the game which make it the red-blooded, exciting contest it is.

It may be that baseball is developing better players. Such things have happened before and now seem natural. If the sport is producing better players and harder hitters, then perhaps it would be wise for the good of the game to make the baseball less lively.

"CHRONIC CRIMINALS"

A STUDY of the 21,232 prisoners received during 1928 by the New York City Department of Corrections revealed that 39 per cent had served from one to 65 terms in institutions under the control of the department. Says the commissioner of corrections:

> "The utter folly of releasing such criminals to prey upon the public again and again, to say nothing of the incidental expense involved in pursuing, capturing and convicting them, is too obvious to require comment.
> "It is difficult to see how the most optimistic can hope for any real diminution of crime until some plan is evolved whereby these chronic criminals can be taken 'off the market" entirely and confined under proper custodial care in some suitable institutions either for life or until such time as they can convince those skilled in the science of human behavior that they can again enter the social life of the community and abide by its rules."

It is a situation not confined to New York. Over-crowded institutions, inadequate systems of justice and reform, politics, public indifferences all combine to release too many unregenerate criminals. Perhaps the commission now studying law enforcement in this country will shed some light on this condition before its task is done.

Most of the big fortunes are in bonds, industry and litigation.

Where they know least about evolution, they need the most of it.

Russia Hates Asia.
Hint for Inventors.
Chinese Grave Robbery.
Wages and Prosperity.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features Syn., Inc.)

All classes of Russians, factory workers and peasants are eager to jail the army and fight Asia.

Russia would be less belligerent if war threatened from Europe.

Russians are born, fearing and hating Asiatics that, through more than 20 centuries, have robbed, burned and murdered in Russia, on the way west.

Ghenghis Khan, Kublai Khan, Tamerlane, Attila and scores less well known, have ridden through the Russian farms, sometimes building pyramids of skulls as monuments to their power.

These murderous nomads have been Tartars; riders from the wild Mongolian desert, never peaceful Chinese.

But to Russia's population Asiatics are Asiatics. Any man with slanting eyes is hated.

The German ship Bremen was expected at 4 p. m. Monday after a run from Cherbourg in 4 days, 19 hours.

That will set a new record, and ship builders will learn from German engineers how to build a ship and what lines avoid water resistance.

Much greater speed should be possible. The water's surface is a ball bearing plane, round drops rolling over each other, frictionless. Small boats, abnormal in power, have gone 90 miles an hour.

The 1,000 foot ship should, and will, beat that. There is needed a new idea, as radical, and perhaps as simple, as putting the needle's eye at the point. That made the sewing machine possible. Think it over.

Ship building experience is not necessary. The inventor of the sewing machine could not sew.

Mr. Morgan, secretary of the China Baptist Publication society, says the tombs of Chinese royalty have recently been robbed of vast treasures in gold and precious stones.

From one tomb, that of the Dowager Empress Tsu-Hsi, dead in 1908, robbers have taken jewels valued at more than $200,000,000. The tomb itself cost $4,000,000.

The old empress will not miss her jewelry now, and it might as well be in circulation, making other foolish women happy.

The interesting and surprising thing is disrespect for the dead, rare in China.

When Russians and Japanese were fighting, sometimes on Chinese soil, with Chinese often killed, there was no complaint until some old Chinese graveyards were disturbed.

Recently, to make a straight road to the tomb of Sun-Yat-Sen, first president of the Chinese republic, many houses of peasants were destroyed. One hundred and eight of the unfortunates are said to have committed suicide, but there was no public protest. A great man must have a straight, wide road to his tomb.

Henry Ford startled industry when he established a $5 minimum, and again when he raised the minimum to $6.

Now Mr. Ford says he expects to increase the minimum "at no very distant time."

Six dollars a day is no longer unusual, in automobile or other work.

The roughest kind of labor, in New York City's building trades, pays men that clean up after the mechanics $9 a day. High wages are as important to wealth as to the workers.

Mr. Ford and Mr. Sloan must sell cars to working people. Between them they produce more than 16,000 new cars a day. There are not enough rich people to buy so many.

Intelligent wealth and industry tend toward higher wages, and a shorter working week. The workers must have money to buy their own production, from motors to radios, and time to enjoy what they produce and buy.

What once were called "luxuries" are now for many—not the few.

On Thursday the pope will leave the Vatican to take part in a religious procession in the square of Saint Peter's. Thus will be inaugurated the agreement between the pope and the Italian government.

No pope has left the Vatican or broken the rule of self-imposed imprisonment for more than half a century.

According to well-established ceremony the pope, in the procession, would be carried half kneeling, half sitting, on the podium, a platform of state, borne on the shoulders of dignitaries, with attendants waving great fans of ostrich plumes beside him.

The pope worries his physician by insisting upon walking in the procession. He will be clothed in heavy vestments richly embroidered with gold, and will carry the host, in a heavy monstrance, in the heat of the evening, the ceremony lasting nearly two hours.

The pope insists that he will not be fatigued and will not allow himself to be carried in spite of his 72 years.

PRAYERS

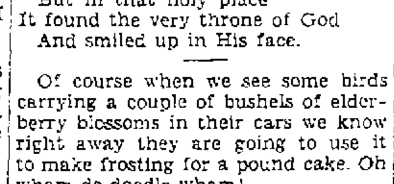

The sorry prayers go up to God
Day after weary day,
Whimpering through the eternal blue
And down the Milky Way.

Deaf to the music of the stars,
The children of desire,
Beggars before the throne of God,
They wait for God to Tire.

And then a little laughing prayer
Came running from the sky,
Along the golden gutters where
The sorry prayers go by.

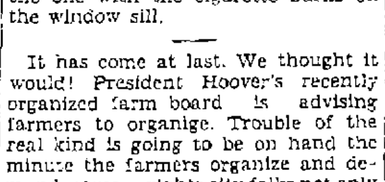

It had no fear of anything,
But in that holy place
It found the very throne of God
And smiled up in His face.

Sugar comes from sugar cane that is planted and grown in Cuba to keep the planter broke and the buyer crazy.

Thep rice of sugar is determined in New York and goes up when you have sold and down when you have bought. A buyer for western grocery houses was sent to New York to watch the sugar market and after a few days' deliberation he wired to this effect:

"Some think it will go up and some think it will go down.

I do too. Whatever you do will be wrong. Act at once."

Sugar cane is planted in the spring, mortgaged in the summer and left in the field in the winter.

Record Of Near East Relief Lauded As Work Nears Close

Remarkable Organization Saved Many Thousands Of Lives In The Period Of Distress Which Followed The World War

An amazingly successful work of intelligent philanthropy is lauded by the press in its appreciations of the record of Near East Relief.

"The report of James L. Barton, chairman, to the board of trustees of the Near East Relief summarizes achievement in which Americans may feel a legitimate pride," says the LEXINGTON LEADER, which believes that "in the entire record of war and post-war activity there is entered no work less selfish nor more worthy, nor any which, instituted under such tremendous handicaps, comes nearer to a complete realization of its aims." The SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW calls it "a comprehensive record of philanthropic service" and finds cause for gratitude in the estimate that "1,500,000 lives have been saved through its timely assistance, including 132,552 children, mostly orphans.

Says the CHARLESTON DAILY MAIL: "The Near East Relief was an enormous task; there has never been anything like it before; it aroused a magnificent response, and Americans unquestionably have done their full and honorable share in it." The RALEIGH NEWS AND OBSERVER says: "No relief in history has directly saved so many lives and put so many children on their feet, and the management has won and deserved the thanks of humanity."

That this work stands forever as a refutation of the charge that Americans are entirely materialistic, is urged by the HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH. "America may well be proud of the Near East Relief," says this paper. "It stands as a practical, undeniable repudiation of the accusation that the people of the United States are interested merely in money making and dollar snatching. In the strong, clear light of what he has done in the Near East, Uncle Samuel, by no stretch of the imagination, can be held to resemble Uncle Shylock of the European cartoonists' conception."

The ROCK ISLAND ARGUS sees the "great heart of America" as having been "responsive to the needs of the war stricken whose husbands and fathers were slain, and who, without timely help, would have perished miserably in most instances," while the DAVENPORT DEMOCRAT declares: "It was a movement in which America could not help but lead, and which must have brought us much of the friendship and confidence of governments and people in the Near East."

"It was organized to relieve the misery and suffering caused by the World War," says the WILLIAMSPORT SUN, explaining the work. "As a result of the geographical alignment of many countries, thousands of people were compelled to migrate to other places and seek employment under conditions wholly new to them. As a result, millions of people were plunged into a condition of hunger and disease, and thousands upon thousands of children were made orphans by the death of their parents or being separated from them. Most of these countries were in the Near East."

The TERRE HAUTE STAR quotes some statistics: "Up to the night of June 30, the American people had contributed $108,655,663.93 for the doing of this great job. This is in addition to contributions of food, medical supplies and clothing, concessions of transportation companies on land and sea, and $12,800,000 worth of food from the American Relief Association."

Describing the charity of the extraordinary organization as an "adventure in friendship, the ROCHESTER TIMES UNION remarks, what men saw in this efficient persistent, pacific charity was the cool head and the warm heart; intelligence on the bridge and love at the helm."

In a tribute to the manner in which the huge contributions have been handled, the ASBURY PARK PRESS says: "The Near East Relief has been admirably managed and it retires from the active field of operations in a blaze of public approbation. That its directors have displayed the good sense to disband upon the completion of their task, instead of maintaining an expensive organization beyond the days of its real usefulness, is not the least of the reasons for applauding the work of this charitable undertaking."

In the "announcement of fulfilment of the mission of Near East Relief" the BUFFALO TIMES sees "a message of prosperity and peace," bearing witness that "the ten years' refugee emergency in the Near East is virtually at an end. The protracted crisis is over. Community and commonwealth life in that erstwhile distracted region has settled into the normal."

Gratification that the affairs of the organization are not to be too abruptly brought to a close is expressed in many quarters. Typical remarkes are those of the BANGOR COMMERCIAL, which says: 'The work of the Near East Relief will not be entirely abandoned, for there remain some 20,000 children to be aided. * * * These children will still be cared for until they are able to sustain themselves or are placed in homes, cared for by local committees."

THINGS INESCAPABLE

Oh, travel this world by which roadway you choose,
And follow your bent and your will,
The dearest of treasures some day you will lose
At the foot or the crest of the hill.
On land, or on sea, and wherever you stray
You will still need your faith for the sorrowful day.

Go at this life in what manner you will,
In market, profession or trade
The need for your courage will follow you still,
There are cares you can never evade
Be toiler or master, but down through the years
You will still need your faith when disaster appears.

You can never escape from the burdens of men,
You can never escape from their pain,
Though you win some delight you will lose it again
You must give up whatever you gain.
And whether you travel the high road or low,
The hurts and the aches of this life you shall know.

You may gather up riches and battle for fame
In triumph your struggle may end,
But you'll learn that for all men is life much the same,
You will still have the need of a friend.
For trouble will come, as you wander about
And you still need your faith in the darkness of doubt.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

Twenty-fifth installment of a Diary kept by Lawrence A. Wilson, of San Diego, California, upon his visit to Russia, in 1928, published exclusively in The New Castle News:

BOLSHEVIST BOORISHNESS.

August 10.

This morning I met a man from Chicago. He had been born in Russia and came back for his first return glimpse of his native land. But he was preparing to fly out again today. So swift was his disillusionment. These Americanized Russians are the quickest to resent the petty tyrannies to which we are subjected. I also met a former Russian Jew who had come back from America to visit his brother. He had come with face shining with expectation. Among other presents he had brought his brother a fine tailor-made suit of clothes. But the moment his brother saw the suit he exclaimed: "Oh, I couldn't wear that! The secret police would be after me to find out how I came to be wearing such fine clothes. Give me the old suit which you are wearing!"

I boarded a tram this morning while it was moving, and got fined one rouble. I seem to be running athwart regulations at every turn. If someone had gotten in my way (and someone is nearly always getting in my way) and could not get off the car until it had started, I would be fined another rouble. I have to pay roubles for permission to stay in each town, and more roubles for permission to go. There are a thousand things which are "verbotten" in Russia. One is followed at every hand with the nemisis of communist control.

The petty pin pricks to which we are subjected are not so intolerable to me. For my philosophy of travel is this: I came to see things just as they are, and if this is the way they are, then I don't want to be spared any of these experiences. But to the ordinary tourist these things are galling. He has come from no very deep motice, and he goes heartily cursing communism and all its works. I frequently have indulged in profane silence myself.

It is unfortunately true that it is the little annoyances to which traveling Americans are inordinately sensitive. Railways bring down a tumultuous torrent of wrath, but just because of small discourtesies, not because of the larger matter of rate discrimination.

These Soviet officials seem to have cultivated meddlesomeness as a fine art. They have a perfect obsession for tagging the benighted stranger with a fine. They have a penchant for ineptitudes. They treat every newcomer, not with intentional cruelty, but with the clumsy prodding of sharp elbows. Senator Thomas, of Oklahoma arrived today. He has been one of the best friends to the Soviet Government that it has had in America. But he was made to smart under boorish official treatment. He arrived at the Finnish bearder with his wife a week ago. He expected that his passport was

Congress Is Almost Sure To Get Bills Giving Banks Aid

Bankers Predict Formation Of Giant Holding Companies To Aid "Chain Banks"

Representative McFadden, Of Pennsylvania Will Introduce Bills In Congress

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 23.—With many bankers predicting the formation of giant holding companies to develop "chain banking" throughout the nation, Rep. Louis T. McFadden (R) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house banking and currency committee, today announced that he is making a study of the situation with the possibility that vital banking legislation may be proposed in congress.

The question has been openly raised as to whether the system of individual banks can survive unless steps are taken to curb the wide-spread growth of branch banking under state banking laws, McFadden believes.

Growth Studied.

The growth of the state banking system at the expense of the national system has also been studied by treasury officials, and the comptroller of the currency, it is understood, is preparing legislation to be submitted to congress.

McFadden, who has been known as an opponent of branch banking, is author of the McFadden act which gave national banks the right to have branches in the city in which they are chartered. The act was passed after bills for unrestricted branch banking were rejected.

"At the time I called attention to the danger of chain banking, and the very thing has happened that I thought would happen," said McFadden. "Branch banking has proceeded without interruption and today it is at a point where many bankers are predicting that if a national branch banking law is not passed permitting branch banks generally, we will have chain banks throughout the country.

"The present acquisition of banks by holding companies and the formation of chain banking systems is all proceeding under authority of state laws. Many drastic federal laws have been suggested to halt this development.

There are those who are beginning to feel that the tendency is to place banking in important cities under control and domination of state banking departments and by deference on the part of national authorities to this situation, they are stimulating this particular activity. In other words it is indicated that in many sections state banks are preempting the territory of national banks.

"A proper solution of our present financial machinery adapting it to present day needs is a problem of greater importance than the one immediately preceding the enactment of the national banking and federal reserve acts."

Thus far, McFadden explained, legislative remedies for the situation have been regarded as dangerous, because they in effect would define who can and who can not hold stock in a national bank.

Among the suggestions for restoring the supremacy of the national banking system, he said are: Giving national banks nation-wide branch banking powers, relieve national banks of taxation by state governments, taxation now being permitted by congress, and limitation of the financing or transactions in interstate commerce to national banks.

"I feel confident congress will never permit the vast resources of commercial banking in the United States to be held and administered entirely or predominantly by 48 separate systems of banks under the political supervision of 49 state banking departments" said McFadden.

CHINESE SEEKING PEACEFUL ACCORD IN LATEST FLARE

ed in an official communique from the Soviet foreign office.

The statement was made in rejecting the offer of France to arbitrate the dispute. The offer was politely declined, but characterized as "without object" as China "steadfastly refuses to comply with preliminary conditions for mediation, chief of which is restortation of a legal base for continued relations between the two nations."

The statement affirms that no nation is more eager to preserve world peace than the U. S. S. R.

International News Service Staff Correspondent

Shanghai, July 23.— Semi-official advices received here today from Nanking stated the Chinese government received reassurances from Soviet authorities that Moscow had ordered Russian troops to refrain from further provocative acts along the Manchurian border.

Reports current at Nanking, indicating the powers would not fix the blame of the present crisis on Soviet officials, was causing considerable uneasiness to the Nationalist government according to word received here.

The Chinese government has clamped down a severe censorship on outgoing dispatches and any cabled criticisms have been suppressed.

Although an undercurrent of excitement was still manifest at Harbin, the situation there is generally quiet, dispatches from Manchuria stated.

In a statement issued at Mukden, Marshal Chang Hsueh Liang, Manchurian war Lord, asserted that 500 Soviet troops had occupied Pogranichnaya for a short time but later evacuated that city.

U. S. Desires Accord

The United States would like to see China and Russia get together on "a basis of justice", officials said.

Minister Wu paved the way for this yesterday when he informed Stimson that China had not seized the Chinese Eastern railway, but had merely expelled Russian officials and employes for propaganda against the Nationalist Chinese government.

Wu told newspaper reporters this might be interpreted as leaving the way open to China to agree to permit other Russians to resume participation in operation of the railway in strict observance of China's demand that propaganda be discontinued.

It is accepted by official and diplomatic circles here that the only basis of any settlement to be permanent would be on the restoration of the status quo ante of railway control.

visa, for which he had applied weeks before, would be waiting him. But he was kept waiting with his wife at the frontier for nearly a week before the awkward officials got around to grant him the necessary permission to enter.

I also learned today of a certain ultra-radical minister from New York who arrived here with face alight as he faced the rosy dawn of the new order, only to meet the stern disapproval in the Kremlin because he was so un-Marxian as to be a minister at all, no matter how radical. And here is one more story which the discussion of this situation brought out.

Another minister who had been expelled from a conservative religious body in America because of his communistic leanings, came to Russia to be a teacher, only to be thrown into prison because he tried to mix religion with his communism. These communists just don't know how to let folks be friends with them. It seems that a liberal or even a radical, unless he has come the whole way to communism, is more suspected than one who has no liberal leanings at all.

I might go on to cite many more cases, while I am thinking of the subject, to illustrate how witless is the Bolshevist in the art of reproachment. His propaganda methods are usually coarse and bungling. Those nervous folks who fear lest the intriques of Bolshevism may make headway in America, either believe in witchcraft or are convinced that we are a nation of morons.

OFFICERS NAMED BY POSTAL CLERKS AT FINAL SESSION

succeeding five years until a 30-year period had expired. The maximum pay is now $2,100; 30-day sick leave with pay; time and one-half for all overtime over eight hours; modification of the retirement act making it optional for retirement after 30 years of service, and increasing the retirement annuity from $1,000 to $1,200 with no increase in premium; making retirement compulsory at 63; paying the widow of a deceased postal clerk the equivalent of one year's salary to enable her to readjust herself.

Shortly before the convention closed a short recess was declared, during which the delegates and postal clerks in attendance at the convention repaired to the First Presbyterian church on North Jefferson street where a group picture was taken.

Ladies Auxliary.

Members of the ladies auxiliary of the Pennsylvania department, National Federation of Post Office Clerks, also held their sessions in The Castleton in connection with the meeting of the men's organization.

They attended several of the sessions of the joint bodies and held their business session late Monday morning, concluding at 1:30 when officers were named for the ensuing year.

Local delegates were Mrs. Richard A. Steen, Mrs. Richard Fleming and Mrs. John Robinson.

Mrs. E. G. Bollard, president of the local auxiliary, presided at the business session and made a short address of welcome in behalf of the local delegation and with other officers of the local union assisted in entertaining them during their stay here.

Dr. Mildred M. Rodgers welcomed the delegates to New Castle in behalf of the women's clubs of the city.

Mrs. Carrie Jeffries Roberts also addressed the delegfates at their business session, giving a most interesting talk, which was greatly appreciated. Harry Weinstock, first vice president of the national organization, also addressed the women.

Minutes and reports were given by Mrs. Julia Heck, the state secretary and treasurer.

Women's Officers.

Election of officers resulted in the old officers being re-named as follows:

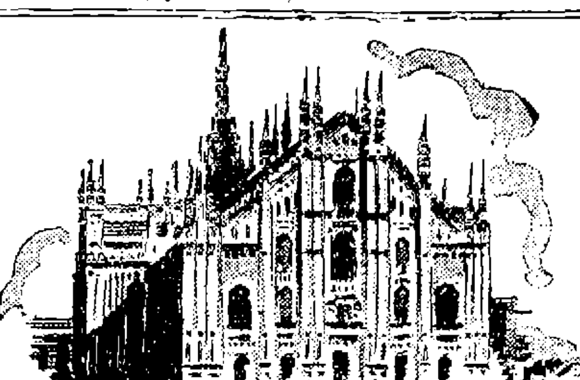

President, Mrs. Harry Weinstock of Philadelphia; first vice president, Mrs. John Robinson of New Castle; second vice president, Mrs. Effie Hardman of Erie; theird vice president, Mrs. Mervin Higley of Erie; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Julia Heck.

Committees named were:

Rules—Mrs. John Robinson, Mrs. William B. McIver of New Castle and Mrs. William Hagle of Erie.

Resolutions—Mrs. Arthur Springer of Bethlehem, Mrs. Mervin Higley of Erie and Mrs. Effie Hardman of Erie.

Credentials—Mrs. Richard A. Steen of New Castle and Mrs. Arch Fleming of New Castle.

In Milan, the most energetic of modern Italian cities, social life is exacting. Smart women of the aristocratic circles, stars from the celebrated La Scala Opera House, singers, actresses illustrate the distinguished clientele of Carlo Eugenio. Eugenio's shop on the Corso Vittorio Emanuele is the best known beauty establishment in Milan.

"Two minutes' massage twice a day with this wonderful lather" is my first step in every successful beauty treatment," says EUGENIO of Milan

beauty adviser to Italy's distinguished aristocrats

"UNDER the conditions of modern life it is not safe to leave the care of the skin to nature alone," Eugenio, of Milan, believes. This modern artist in the care of the skin is consulted by Milan's most distinguished women. World travelers, too, visit his salon. And he tells all his patrons that thorough cleanliness is the first step to beauty. Cleanliness through the twice daily use of Palmolive Soap. "Apart from the exceptional cleaning power of Palmolive," Eugenio goes on to say, "its emollient oils have a definite value in restoring skin health."

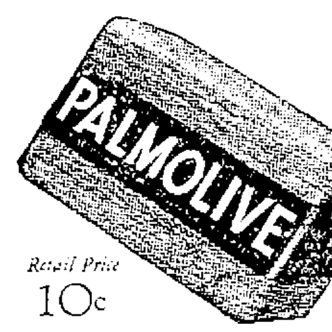

Wherever you go in Italy, you will find this opinion seconded by the best specialists. From Palermo, in the South, to Venice, in the North, Italian skin specialists are unanimous in their approval of this simple 2-minute method: with both hands massage a lather of Palmolive Soap into the pores. Rinse away the impurities thus brought out of the pores . . . first with warm water, then with cold. So easy to do—and so effective!

For the bath, too

Since Palmolive costs no more than ordinary soap, millions use it for the bath as well. You will be delighted with its refreshing after-effects. More than 16,000 beauty experts throughout America agree with the specialists of Italy on the superiorities of Palmolive. Buy a bar today to see why.

Most tremendous professional endorsement in history! 16,342 beauty experts—in America alone—recommend Palmolive Soap.

dress the state postal clerks, asserting that the post office department was one of the greatest of our government. He stated that he always tried to vote for every measure introduced into congress which would be for the benefit of the postal workers.

He expressed concern over the estimated postal deficit, stating that he hoped that President Hoover would make inquiry into the matter and remedy the conditions now existing in the post office department.

In conclusion, he advised the postal workers to serve with honesty and integrity, stating that only by service could they advance to positions of honor in their respective departments.

Officer Speaks.

Harry C. Weinstock, vice president of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, followed Mr. Swick on the program.

He asserted that every member of the postal clerks was a service man, and were endeavoring to give the best service possible to the public at all times.

Referring to the deficit in the post office department, Mr. Weinstock stated that it was largely mythical and was caused by the government not appropriating enough money to meet the budget.

He stated that the post office clerks had dedicated their lives to their work and that when they plead for remedial legislation it is because they believe it will better enable them to serve the public.

Annuity Fund.

He told of the formation of the annuity fund for postal workers in 1920, and of the organization of the postal workers for the betterment of conditions in 1920, and the formation of the annuity fund for postal clerks, whereby they asked to be permitted to take out a small sum from their pay so that their aged brethren might enjoy the comforts of life in their declining years.

"We have seen the president veto measures which would benefit conditions in our department, simply because we are linked with the organized labor movement," he said. "We love our service, we have had our martyrs but our organized movement has brought to the attention of the public the great inequalities which have existed in the post office department, and we have gradually bettered ourselves."

National President Speaks.

National President Thomas Flaherty of the post office clerks followed Mr. Weinstock. He explained that the alleged deficit in the post office department was purely a myth.

The post office department carries annually 15 millions worth of franked matter free of any charge; loses 10 millions on delivering country newspapers free in the county wherein they circulate; spends 15 millions of dollars in a subsidy to ships which carry mail to foreign countries, when they could have their own mail vessels; give a preferntial rate to certain magazines and newspapers amounting to 14 million dollars; pays eight dollars per pound to private contractors for delivering air mail for which it recieves in turn two dolars per pound, and spends 80 million dollars for rural mail delivery, for which it receive in turn receipts of but 20 millions.

Mr. Flaherty stated that he believed that Mr. Hoover could discover all these things and would also find that the American people were not so much concerned with the cost of the mail service, but with the efficiency with which it is handled.

Everything that the postal clerks' organization has wrought in the last decade has been for the betterment of the service, the speaker asserted, and pointed out other things which were desired for the advancement of the service, such as liberalization of the retirement law, a 44-hour week, longevity in pay and a seniority plan for those who have given the best of their lives to the service.

He asserted that further advancement depended on the rank and file of the organization. "Everything we have achieved in the past has come from the ranks and everything we will achieve in the future will come from the same efforts.

Mr. Rentz Speaks.

Fred L. Rentz, who with Mrs. Rentz, was an honored guest, was called on for a few remarks and expressed his appreciation for the fine service which had always been rendered The News by the local post office employes. He stated that in all his 47 years of contact with the New Castle post office that the service rendered had always been the finest. He expressed the hope that the visitors here had spent an enjoyable time and would carry away many kindly thoughts of New Castle.

James W. Cole, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who had cooperated with the officers of New Castle local No. 227 in making the banquet the success that it was, was called upon for a few concluding remarks by Toastmaster Steen.

Mr. Cole told how hard the local men had worked to make the convention the best ever held, and stated that the citizens of New Castle had enjoyed having the postal clerks of the state here as their guests, and hoped that they would come back again soon.

CARL D. LUTTON DIES IN BUTLER AFTER COLLISION

who was enroute toward Butler at the time.

The Cage car was completely demolished in the collision and both its occupants terribly injured. Mr. Strance in the other machine escaped injury, although his machine was damaged.

Assistance was rendered by Mr. Strance and others and the terribly injured local men rushed to the Butler City hospital, where they were given every possible attention. The injuries of Mr. Lutton were of such a nature, that he died about four hours after entering the hospital.

Mr. Cage was unconscious when removed to the hospital and had not recovered consciousness late today.

A third member of the group in the Cage car when wrecked on the Slippery Rock-Butler road yesterday afternoon was Nick Trott, aged 24, of Cascade street. He was removed to the Butler City hospital following the accident, but was discharged shortly afterward, as it was found that he had escaped injuries of a serious character. He was immediately taken in charge by the Butler county authorities and is being held as a material witness in connection with the investigation in progress in connection with the case.

Mr. Lutton was a veteran of the World War, serving in Battery A, field artillery, with the American Expeditionary Forces. He spent several months overseas. After the close of the war he served as a military police at Camp Dodge, Ia.

He was born February 9, 1900, a son of the late Charles Lutton and Mary Hennon Lutton Shimp, who survives him.

Besides his wife, Rebecca Young Lutton, he leaves his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shimp, two brothers, Ross Lutton of this city and Frank Lutton of Themoplis, Wyo., and three sisters, Mrs. Maude Harris of Akron, O.; Mrs. Laura Umbright of Franklin, Pa., and Mrs. Margaret Burkhard of Etna, Pa.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, July 24, at 1:30 p. m. from the residence of his brother, Ross Lutton, 625 East Reynolds street. Burial will be made in Graceland cemetery.

Autos Moving Along Road Have Right Of Way Over Other Cars Entering Traffic

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 23.—Vehicles moving along street or highway have the right of way over the one being driven onto the roadway from a parking place at the side, even though the operator [illegible] ing the line of traffic gives a signal by extending his hand, the Pennsylvania Motor Federation announced today. This interpretation of a much-disputed phase of the motor code is based on a decision handed down recently by Judge William H. Keller in Superior Court.

"Judge Keller's decision sets at rest any question as to whether or not extended-arm signal give the operator of a car being driven from a parking place the right of way over a vehicle traveling along the thoroughfare in the same direction," said S. Edward Gable, president of the Federation. "It clearly places responsibility for any accident resulting from such a situation on the shoulders of the driver of the vehicle entering the street or highway from a parking place."

Mr. Gable called attention to the fact that, though Section 1016 of the motor code requires that the driver of a car starting from a parking place onto the main avenue of travel shall give a signal to approaching cars, it does not specifically state which car has the right of way. This has caused numerous disputes following accidents of this type, he said.

The Keller decision is on an appeal taken in the case of Bulnitzky et al versus American Stores Company, tried in the Luzerne county court. Two trucks belonging to the company, according to evidence, were parked along the State highway between Wilkes Barre and Bloomsburg. As Budnitzky, traveling at about fifteen miles per hour, neared the two vehicles, suddenly and without any warning, according to the court records, the rear truck pulled out onto the road in front of him, causing a collision that damaged the Budnitzky truck and the goods loaded upon it.

In his decision Judge Keller held that "he (the driver of the vehicle leaving the parking place) was bound to see that approaching traffic was not endangered by his movement before he attempted it and his failure to do so was negligence. Putting out his hand, even if it be believed that he did so, did not give him the right to cut into the road regardless of approaching vehicles."

"It is always safest and best," said the Federation head in commenting on this phase of the motor law," to be sure that the way is clear for you to enter a line of traffic from a parking place. Accidents caused by failure of drivers to do so are all too frequent and nearly all of them could be averted if a little more of caution were practiced."

Man Has Seventeen Different Names Is Claiming Championship

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—A new kind of championship was claimed for Royal S. Harris, of Philadelphia, awaiting trial in Federal court here on charges of misrepresenting himself as a deputy collector of internal revenue.

Harris has seventeen aliasses, according to officers who brought him here after he completed a term in U. S. prison at Leavenworth, Kan. This, officers said, was a record.

In November 1928 Harris was arrested and sentenced in Indiana for an offense similar to the one charged here.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent

NURSIE DEFIES HER MAJESTY

"Your highness, I do not at all approve of allowing this strange creature to run around loose in our home town!" buzzed the funny fat bee who had waddled to the foot of the throne. "You ought to know better!"

Peter couldn't believe his ears. A commoner to speak so familiarly to royalty! He half expected to hear Her Majesty order "Off with her head!" For Peter had an idea that this was what all kings and queens did when their subjects did anything to displease them—at least this was what he had been given to understand in the books he had read.) And the boy began to feel very sorry for the funny fat bee in spite of the fact she had spoken a word against him. She did look rather old and pathetic, and somehow her voice sounded familiar. Where had he heard it before? The boy could not puzzle it out.

"—I CAN'T IMAGINE WHAT HAS COME OVER YOU," REMARKED THE QUEEN

Much to his surprise, however, the beautiful queen didn't seem to mind the funny fat bee's impudence at all.

"Why shouldn't we be kind to the stranger in our midst and allow him to wander about as he likes?" asked she, in her gentle voice. "What harm could he do us even if he wished to, and I am sure he doesn't, Nursie?"

A third bee buzzed over Peter's shoulder, and turning, the boy recognized the excited bee who first had taken him for a thief and called for help.

"He was in the storehouse passage, Your Highness, and he has no business there!" buzzed this persistent accuser.

"Exactly! That's precisely what I think," agreed the funny fat bee whom the queen called Nursie. "The whole thing appears very suspicious to me. I for one think this intruder is up to no good and that he should be forcibly prevented from doing any damage.

"Why, Nursie, I can't imagine what has come over you," remarked the queen, slowly, and Peter realized that Her Majesty was very much surprised at Nursie's manner. "It is not like you to act nor to talk like this. You are the kindest hearted little creature in the world. Never in all my life, since the days when you took care of me, a wee baby, have I seen you so cross before."

German Liner Is Holder Of Record For Atlantic Run

German Lloyd Liner Completes Trip To New York City In Four Days Time

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 23.—The fastest ocean liner in the world, the North German Lloyd super-liner Bremen, established a new record for the crossing of the Atlantic ocean when she reached Ambrose Lightship, New York's water gate, 22 miles out at 3:02 o'clock Monday afternoon.

It was unofficially estimated that she had made the trip from Cherbourg to New York harbor tidewater in 4 days 18 hours and 50 minutes which is hours better than the previous record for the westward crossing of 5 days 2 hour and 34 minutes made by the Cunard liner Mauretania in September 1928.

FARMER'S WIFE KILLED BY BULL

Severely Gored, Woman Climbs Tree With Little Child, But Limb Snaps

BELLEVILLE, Ont., July 23.—Mrs. Irvin Reid 23, farmer's wife in Limerick township has been killed by a bull. She had gone into a field to milk cows when the bull recently purchased by her husband dashed across the field and caught her with its horns tossing her in the air and goring her when she fell.

Severely injured she ran to a tree which she and her little child climbed. a limb snapped hurling them to the ground, the blow rendered Mrs. Reid unconscious and the child was also injured. Both were found shortly afterwards when the wails of the child attracted the notice of neighbors. A physician took 72 stitches in Mrs. Reid's body. She died later of hemorrhage.

"KONJOLA WORKED LIKE A CHARM," SAYS HAPPY MAN

"My Only Regret Is That I Didn't Know Of This Famous Medicine Sooner."

MR. PAUL R. ALLEN

"Konjola worked like a charm in my case," said Mr. Paul R. Allen, 1336 South Main Street, Meadville, Pa. "I am an electric welder and constant looking at the flame gave me severe headaches which kept me in distress for days. Boils covered my skin and caused intense suffering.

"Konjola was exactly what my system always needed and it certainly combined with Nature to restore my health. My organs were strengthened and cleansed. I gained new strength and energy. Boils, severe headaches? They are a thing of the miserable past. My only regret is that I didn't know of this famous medicine years ago."

Konjola is sold by Lyon & Watson, the druggists, 240 E. Washington St., this city.

Stimson Believes Way Paved To End Far East Dispute

Peaceful Settlement Of Sino-Russian Controversy Is Believed Near

U. S. IS MOVING VERY SLOWLY

Broadest Field Possible Will Be Left Open For Mediation Of Issue

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The way was believed open today for a peaceful settlement of the Sino-Russian dispute over the seizure by the Chinese of the Chinese Eastern railway, either through direct negotiation between the disputants or mediation of the powers.

With assurances received by Secretary of State Stimson from Chinese Minister C. C. Wu as to China and from both the French and Japanese ambassadors as to Russia that neither country intended to go to war unless in self-defense, that outlook for peace in the Orient appeared considerably brighter, according to the State Department view.

Move Very Slowly

The broadest field for negotiation will be left open for the Chinese and Soviet Russian diplomats to occupy, and there probably will be no direct suggestion as to the form it shall take by the four signatories to the Pacific treaty of 1921—France, Great Britain, Japan and the United States—for the time being, Stimson intimated. He said the dispute might be settled directly by the two countries involved, by mediation of the other powers or by conciliation and arbitration.

Despite the optimistic view which State Department officials take of the situation today, Stimson is moving slowly for fear of upsetting the progress made thus far.

Names Of Flying Squadron Posted

Cards bearing the names of members of the Flying Squadron, local life savers holding American Red Cross Life Saving and First Aid certificates, and who are pledged to assist in the event of emergency, have been printed on large placards, which are being distributed to local industrial plants, summer camps and in conspicuous places about the city.

The cards bear the name of the members of the squadron and their address and telephone number.

Aunt Of Dr. Womer Is Killed In Crash

Mrs. Joseph Womer, of Transfer, R. D., who was killed when a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. James Morrison, of Transfer, R. D., was struck by a car driven by Philip Diskin, of Meadville, Sunday afternoon, was an aunt of Dr. W. A Womer of Highland avenue, who will attend the funeral services at Transfer Wednesday afternoon.

The family was returning home after attending services at the Transfer Reformed church, and had started across the highway when struck by the approaching car of Mr. Diskin.

Mr. Joseph Womer is still confined to Buhl hospital with a possible fracture of the skull.

George, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Morrison is believed to have been internally injured in the crash. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison were badly bruised.

Public Exhibition Of Freak Animal

"Jutie," Lettered Calf, Exhibited Wednesday Before Going On Tour

A public exhibition will occur at the Castle Hill mission on Harding street Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and "Jutie" the calf with its name on its side, will be the main attraction.

A photographer will be present as well as a veterinarian. The latter will publicly show the calf is a freak of nature, according to Lorenz Schmidt.

The exhibition is to occur prior to Mr. Schmidt, owner of the calf and head of the Castle Hill mission, making a tour about county fairs during the coming fall.

The calf, as most Lawrence county News readers know, has the word "Jutie" spelled out on her side and has caused quite a bit of curiosity and comment during the past few weeks.

Mr. Schmidt states that the mission will continue to operate while he is on tour with the calf, its mother and another calf with outlines of animals and people on its body. Every cent made by the animals will be used to further the work of the local mission in addition to the advertising which the city will receive.

All New Castle and Lawrence county may see the animals free before they go on tour and every one is invited to the exhibition on Wednesday afternoon.

Jaywalkers Win As Chicago Law Is Thrown Out

By FRANCIS F. BEALY,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, July 23.—Chicagoans are somewhat like bulls when they see a red light they get angry.

They've seen 'em, of course for many years now but it wasn't until a month ago they became angry. That was when Police Commissioner William Russell decided to enforce the two-year-old jaywalking ordinance. He sent four coppers to each downtown corner and that started the riot.

Each trusty gendarmerie perspired and strained, whistled and blew, tugged and pulled at the masses which piled up at each corner. The moment his back was turned hundreds raced across the street against the red lights.

Pedestrians complained they had been accustomed to dodge speeding automobiles and wished to continue. Russell was firm and told them they had to obey the ordinance.

No Hick Town

Persons wrote to the "vox pops" of the newspapers complaining that Chicago was not a hick town and that pedestrians could take care of themselves. The question was agitated considerably.

Then finally the city council took official cognizance of the protests. The City Fathers, headed by Alderman Thomas Bowler, went into a huddle and discussed the question.

The dignified men who guide the city's destinies decided to take a stroll through the "loop" and observe at first hand the situation.

At the first corner they were retarded by a red light with only a meager amount of automobile traffic. Forgetting for a moment the ordinance, Bowler tried to cross the street.

Whistles! Screeches! Indignant snorts of the Traffic cop!

Only One Death

"Hum", said Alderman Bowler. And so it went.

Later that afternoon Bowler learned that only one pedestrian had been killed in the downtown area in the last eight months, with the jaywalking ordinance not enforced. The law was then officially repealed.

Now persons in Chicago, one of the world's largest cities, can run across the street anywhere they please, can make faces at the motorists and can grin with derision at the red traffic lights.

They don't mean anything.

Dempsey's Work Here Recognized

Is Offered Fine Position In Middle West With Advancement Of Salary

That the splendid work done in New Castle by Pat J. Dempsey, executive secretary of the Lawrence county champter, American Red Cross has attracted the attention of officers of the national organization, is attested by the fact that he has been offered a fine position in the National organization.

Upon his return from Carlisle barracks, where he has been spending the past month at the summer camp of the Medical Reserve units, he received a letter from National headquarters, asking him to accept the position of laison officer in the middle west, at a fine advancement in salary.

Mr. Dempsey will leave tonight at the request of the National office, to come there and talk over the matter.

Young People To Attend Conference

Delegates From United Presbyterian Churches To Attend National Meeting

A number of young people from New Castle, will leave early Wednesday morning for Mountain Lake Park, Md., where they will attend the national session of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian church which convenes at that place on July 24 to Sunday, July 28.

Those attending from the Highland United Presbyterian church include Misses Alice Warner, Claudia Boughter, Ruth Dodds, Edith Dodds, Lois Williamson and Frank Brenneman.

Those from the First U. P. church are Misses Jean Bloomer, Harriet Ewing, Helen Hammond, Dorothy Beckwith and Bruce Ewing.

Delegates from the Third U. P. church are Russell McNickle, Miss Reba Sines, Miss Eleanor Turner and Arthur McNickle.

From the Oak Grove U. P. church are Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Black, Clyde Myers, Miss Frances Myers and Miss Margaret Stoner.

Permits Granted By State Board

Two permits from the Water and Power Resources Board in Harrisburg, Pa., were filed today in the office of the Lawrence County Register and Recorder.

One is a permit to the City of New Castle to build a concrete retaining wall on the west bank of the Neshannock Creek at Apple Alley. The other is a permit to the Lawrence Automobile Company to build a concrete retaining wall on the bank of the Neshannock Creek, 320 feet from the west abutment of Mill street bridge.

Murray Gitlitz To Fight Jones

Scarney And Dudas Clash And Pickard Will Meet Don La Rue

HEAVYWEIGHTS ARE KNOWN AND POPULAR

Fight fans from all portions of the Tri-State district today are commencing ordering reservations for the extraordinary boxing show which will be staged by Bill Jolly at the Jolly bowl next Monday night. For the topliners he has signed Murray Gitlitz, the New York heavyweight against Billy Jones who has been beating every opponent he is matched against. It is a bout which cost Jolly a figure far in excess of any bout he has staged and in addition to this he has secured several other choice heavyweight battles.

For instance he has signed Harold Scarney of Youngstown, against Joe Dudas, Albion, Pa., heavyweight who is reported to be one of the greatest punchers among the younger heavyweights now trying to crawl up the fistic ladder. In another bout Walter Pickard, also of Youngstown, will meet Don La Rue, of Toledo, who recently returned from California. These two bouts are scheduled for six rounds.

Henry Attel, a middleweight of Youngstown, a slugger from the toe of his foot to the top of his hair will slug with Joe Midway, of New Castle, who fought a good fight with Cliff Becker and it is probable that Chuck Taggart, of Butler, Pa., who knocked out Warren Farrow last night will be on the card if a good opponent can be secured. It is a show, according to Jolly that equals any fistic production that could have been secured.

Red Cross Issues New Warning To Swimmers

In the interest of water safety over the country, while the bathing season is at its height, the American Red Cross, through the Lawrence county chapter, has issued a set of warnings to the public, prepared by W. E. Longfellow of the life saving staff at National headquarters.

His advice follows:

Avoid heavy meals before going on the river. Wait at least an hour before going into the water after eating beach-stand lunches, such as hot dogs and soda pop.

Never swim alone, but always with a companion of your own ability, even though an expert swimmer.

Get to be an all-round swimmer in a pool before you tackle the big water, and always swim at guarded places.

In case of a canoe accident, stick to your boat. Help comes quicker to one clinging to an overturned boat than to one swimming toward shore. An ordinary canoe, even though filled with water, will hold up the heads of about four people.

A canoe or rowboat with an outboard motor should be treated the same as a motor boat and should carry a fire extinguisher and life preservers.

The slogan of the Red Cross Life Saving Service is, "Everyone a swimmer, and every swimmer a life saver."

Kink In Refueling Plane Hose Nearly Causes Disaster To Texas Airmen

(International News Service)

HOUSTON, Tex., July 23.—The endurance plane "Billion Dollar City," passed its 150th hour in the air at 7:40:30 o'clock this morning after passing a night which brought a momentary threat of tragedy.

A kink in a refueling hose came near resulting in disaster late last night, but the endurance and refueling planes swung apart safely. The refueling was completed later, just as the endurance machine was running dry of gasoline.

Joe Glass and G. L. Loomis, pilots remained in high spirits today.

is more
CONVENIENT

Not only the large, but also the medium size or small family which has only a small washing, is also much better off with the surprisingly compact Dexter Fastwin than with any single-tub washer—because with no single-tub washer is it really convenient to use the "two successive suds" needed to keep clothes permanently free from "that all-over grayish tinge."

Even for the smallest washing the Dexter Fastwin makes thorough washing far more convenient than with any single tub washer.

1 Even for a small washing the Dexter "Fastwin" saves handling at least one tub of water, and saves time and effort as compared with any single-tub washer properly used.

2 The Dexter "Fastwin" can wash properly at least twice as much clothing per hour (including all operations from hamper to line) as any single-tub washer made.

3 Only by the "2 suds" washing method (which is thoroughly convenient only with the Dexter "Fastwin"), can that "grayish linen" and that "harsh feel" be kept out of clothes month after month, without scalding or boiling.

4 The Dexter "Fastwin" thus offers a very substantial and easily demonstrated advantage over any single-tub washer that is, or ever can be built—even though the Dexter Company builds the finest of single-tub washers, also.

5 Builders of fine washers for more than a quarter century. The Dexter Company originated the double-tub type of washer 16 years ago, and the first one ever made is still in weekly use.

6 More than 100,000 delighted users say they could never again be satisfied with any mere single-tub washer.

Stewart Sees Real War Deterrent In That Neither Russia Nor China Has Money To Stage Modern Fight

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Something much more effective than the League of Nations or the Kellogg treaty serves as a war deterrent between Russia and China.

Neither country has the money to put up a modern fight.

The lack of the world's latest weapons might not stop them. Both being deficient in that respect, they would be about on equal terms. Technically, a campaign between them need be nothing worse—or better—than more or less old-fashioned.

Armies are indispensable in any kind of warfare, however—and they have to be fed.

With millions already literally starving in China, and Russia on short rations, obviously both sides would have to buy food, and neither side has the means to buy it on a scale to keep any formidable force in the field.

It is true, they might start a conflict and develop issues calculated to drag in other nations, which might reasonably be expected to get to fighting among themselves.

This is the possibility which makes foreign observers of the strain in Manchurian relations so anxious.

Still more unfortunately, an adjustment of the Russo-Chinese difference of opinion concerning the management of the Chinese Eastern railroad is not likely to hold water very long.

The rivalry between Moscow and Nanking lies deeper than that.

The Soviet leaders evidently consider the communization of China vitally important to Bolshevism. Just as evidently, the republican leaders at Nanking are determined to prevent their country from being communized.

Their territories adjoin, separated only by an imaginary line, so that a constant slopping over of propaganda from the Siberian to the Chinese side of the border practically is a certainty, with or without Moscow's active encouragement.

The conflict in the two political philosophies did not originate in a mere squabble over the control of a railroad, and it will not end if and when the railroad dispute is settled.

China surely is not as free from communistic sentiment as the attitude of President Chiang Kaishek's administration perhaps suggests.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, not Chiang Kai-shek, was the father of the present Chinese republic, and Dr. Sun, if not an out-and-out communist, at least tended decidedly in that direction. He died before Soviet rule in Russia had taken its definite shape of today, but his attitude toward it unquestionably would have been sympathetic, which President Chiang's distinctly is not.

Dr. Sun had his headquarters for some time, in the early period of the revolution, at Shanghai, where I talked with him a number of times, and there is no doubt whatever that he favored proletarianism for his country—not, maybe, on the existing Russian model, but similar to it in principle.

President Chiang clearly has given the Chinese republican movement a wholly different slant from Dr. Sun's—a "bourgeois" slant, as the doctor probably would have described it.

Dr. Sun was an altruist.

President Chiang seems to be a practical man of action.

Besides, Chiang has lived a great deal among the foreigners at China's treaty ports—about the hardest-headed, most conservative set of communities on earth.

He also has had useful support from the swarm of czarist Russian exiles in northern China. The bulk of these exiles are financially hard up, but they make useful soldiers, who want nothing so much as to fight the Soviets. Chiang has a good many regiments of them on the frontier. Nor are all the treaty port Russians an impecunious lot. They include a few who antedate the czar's overthrow—men who have been in business in China for years and are millionaires, some of them. It doubtless has paid them to cultivate Chiang.

All told, these influences possibly have weighed with the new president and modified his extreme views, if he ever had them.

Nevertheless, Dr. Sun's ideas must have left a deep impression in China, especially among the intelligentsia, which he had a large part in creating.

These folk have scattered his doctrines far and wide.

It also stands to reason that radicalism—if it can be so presented as to be intelligible at all—naturally appeals, if to any populace in the world, to the millions who live so close to actual starvation as the masses of the Chinese.

President Chiang, then, has a country which it behooves him to guard stringently against subversive teachings, or he is apt to have rebellion on his hands any day.

Of course, Chiang knows his danger perfectly—and so do the ultra-conservative foreigners at the treaty ports, and especially the Russian exiles, who want nothing less than the spread of sovietism to the land of their refuge.

The Bolsheviki, on the Russian side of the frontier, surely know the same thing.

This Soviet aggression in China is a constant temptation.

The threat of it equally is a constant source of anxiety to President Chiang and all the strongest influences which surround him.

American Ambassador To Peru Enjoying Vacation Lasting Three Months

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 23.—Alexander P. Moore United States Ambassador to Peru, arrived in New York Monday aboard the Grace Line motor ship, Santa Maria. He is enjoying a three months leave of absence from his ambassadorial duties. He received reporters in bed.

Mr. Moore brought with him a copy of Peru's ratification of the Kellogg Mutilateral Treaty for the State Department, a Panama hat for President Hoover and a golden feather which had been worn in the headdress of Athaualpa, last of the Inca chieftains.

The hat, which was declared by customs agents to be one of the finest they had ever seen, is the gift of President Augusto B. Legula of Peru to President Hoover.

Mr. Moore, recently submitted to an operation.

He said he was unaware of plans to send him to Cuba as ambassador, but added he hoped to return to Peru.

Gene Tunney To Be Sued By Husband

John S. Fogarty Will Seek $500,000 From Retired Champion For Alienation

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 23.—"I'll win this suit against Gene Tunney. I have evidence no jury can doubt."

This was the assertion today of John S. Fogarty of Fort Worth, Texas, who alleges that the former champion of the world alienated the affections of his wife. He planned to file suit for $500,000 against Tunney in superior court at Bridgeport, Conn Monday.

He is the divorced husband of Mr Katherine King Fogarty, who is also suing Tunney for "half a million" alleging breach of promise.

The "evidence" to which Fogarty referred is the alleged release made public by Tunney's attorneys in a counter-suit to nullify Mrs. Fogarty's suit. The document sets forth that in consideration of payments of $62,500, Mrs. Fogarty releases Tunney from any claim she may have had.

Fogarty and his attorney declare that in the alleged release the divorce reveals details of her supposed romance with the retired heavyweight champion.

Propose Changes In Redrafting Of New Tariff Bill

Age-Old System Of Foreign Valuation May Be Changed To United States Valuation

COMMITTEE GIVES SERIOUS THOUGHT

New Plan Would Apply Tariff Rates To American Wholesale Price Of Imported Articles

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 23. — The age-old system of applying American tariff protection may be changed from a "foreign valuation" to a "United States valuation" basis, it was learned today.

The Senate finance committee, engaged in revising the House tariff bill, is giving serious consideration to the proposed change.

The U. S. tariff commission has been asked to file considerable information with the committee on the advisability of making such a change in valuations and the committee's ultimate action probably will depend on the commission's report.

Present System Scored

The present system of applying American tariff rates against the price at which imported articles are offered for sale in foreign markets has been the subject of much controversy. Many American manufacturers have charged that the system destroyed the "flexible provisions" of the tariff law under which the President can raise or lower duties to meet changed economic conditions. Complaint also has been made that the American government has been unable to obtain accurate statistics regarding costs of production abroad—information considered vital to the erection of an effective tariff wall.

The new proposal would apply the tariff rates to the American wholesale price of imported articles, less duty, the importers' profit, transportation costs, insurance and other overhead expenses.

Its proponents have argued it would prevent all evasions of the tariff law and give effective tariff protection to American agriculture and industry.

Only Few Changes

If any change is made in "valuations", it appeared entirely likely that only "United States valuations" would be considered by the Senate. The House incidentally gave this system little consideration, adopting the "foreign valuations" without debate, because of long usage.

An indication that many of the House rates will be slashed by the Senate committe meanwhile was seen in the action of Senator Smoot (R) of Utah, chairman, in asking the commission for a list of articles on which the importations are less than 10 per cent of American consumption. Smoot said he desired this information in connection with reducing high House rates.

The preliminary tariff debate continued the while, with Senator Shortridge (R) of California defending "high protection" and Senator Lafollette (R) of Wisconsin, charging the House bill has "aroused general public indignation". Lafollette incidentally challenged President Hoover to declare himself on the House bill and its rates.

Republican members of the finance committee met again this morning behind locked doors to fix rates. They considered the chemical and oil schedule and were hopeful of completing all schedules within two weeks.

Revivals Gather Much Interest At Harbor Tent

Many attended the revival meeting at the Harbor last evening.

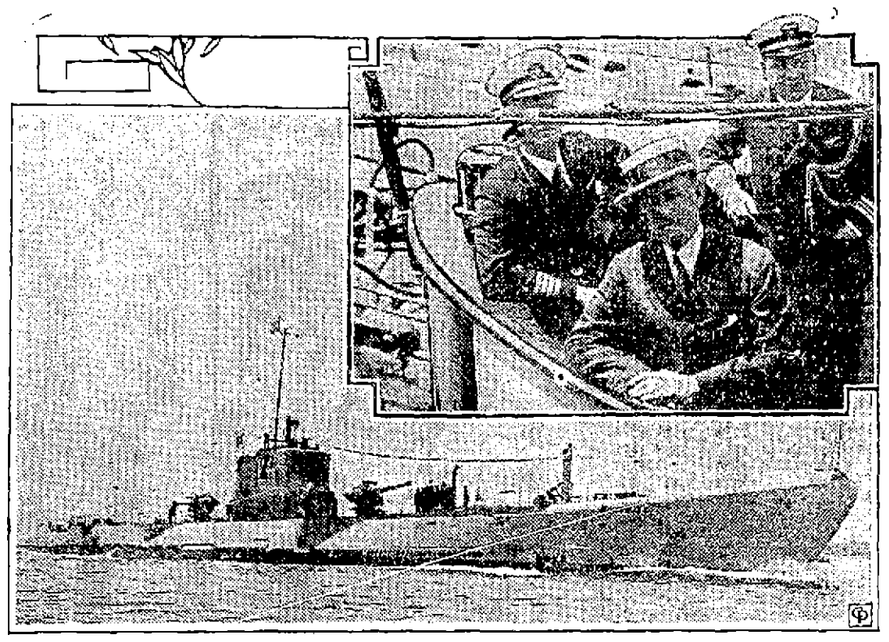

The sermon was delivered by Rev. Wade Patrick. He used for his text Eccles. 12:13 "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man."

Preceding the sermon was a song service led by Rev. W. H. Armstrong. Miss Margaret Owrey at the piano. The opening prayer was given by Rev. Baker, pastor of King Chapel on the New Wilmington-Pulaski road.

The hymn "Jesus is Calling" was sung by the congregation following the sermon. Several hands were raised indicating a new desire to go with God. After prayers concluded the program for the evening.

The tent is situated in a large corner lot at the intersection of the Youngstown and Harbor roads. The services are being held every night at 8 o'clock D. S. T.

NAVAL OFFICIAL TRIES OUT SUBMARINE DIVING

To get first-hand information about his job, Ernest Lee Jahncke, assistant secretary of the navy, dove 200 feet off San Diego, Cal., recently in the submarine V-4, the navy's largest submersible, above. The boat, which cruises as fast as a battleship, has a bridge as long as the entire length of the navy's first submarine, the A-1, which measured 63 feet. Inset shows Jahncke on board the V-4, with ship's officers.

Schlee Severely Injured Today By Plane Propellor

Edward F. Schlee, 37, Taken To Hospital With Fractured Skull Is Belief

(International News Service)

DETROIT, July 23.—Edward F. Schlee, 37, member of the famed round-the-world flying team of Schlee and Brock, was critically injured today when the propeller of his airplane kicked backwards as he was attempting to start it at Municipal airport.

Schlee was unconscious when he arrived at a hospital and physicians said he apparently had suffered a factured skull. William S. Brock, Schlee's flying companion, was at the field when the accident occurred.

COLLEGIAN WINS EUROPEAN TRIP BY HARD WORK

(International News Service)

BOSTON, July 23.—Four years of unrelieved hard work have won J. Chesley Stewart of Hardwick, Vt., a college education and a trip to Europe. A number of diligent but impecunious young men have succeeded in working their way through college but Stewart is probably the first to have his achievement recognized and rewarded.

Soon after graduating from Boston University this June Stewart was notified that he had been awarded the European trip offered by Irving Bullard, Boston manufacturer to the student who most successfully overcame his handicaps in gaining a college education. Stewart will leave soon on a two weeks holiday on the continent in the company of Edward J. Bullard, son of the donor of the prize at present his comrade at Camp Devens where R. O. T. C. is having its annual tour of duty.

"It was hard at first" admits Stewart, "but I got used to the hard work after a while and it came easier to me. Any young man who wants to obtain a college education can do so if he really makes up his mind to do it."

During his four years at Boston University he worked at a variety of jobs at a variety of salaries. His hours of employment were more varied than either. For example Stewart has worked from 9 p. m. to 7 a. m. answering telephones in a doctor's office, snatching sleep whenever the opportunity presented itself between calls. From 5:30 to 8 p. m. he worked as a waiter in a Boston restaurant for his meals and $2 a week. Later he changed his avocation to picture framing in an art store.

The summer months also offered an assortment of jobs ranging from a club waiter and life guard to an actor in an amateur troupe organized by John Golden.

In hiss pare time he often acted as chauffeur for doctors ,earning an occasional dollar in this manner. Classes required several hours a day but aside from the time required by school work his time was his own.

Following his trip to Europe Stewart expects to work for an airplane factory in New Jersey.

PRESBYTERIANS ARE READY FOR ORGANIC UNION

(International News Service)

PEN MAR, Pa., July 23.—Declaring that the time for union is ripe in the emotions of Presbyterian men, Dr. William Chalmers Covert of Philadelphia in an address here today advocated immediate and unconditional organic union in all branches of Presbyterianism.

Standing near the Mason and Dixon line the general secretary of the Presbyterian board of Christian education pleaded with a representative group of his church men for complete eradication of the sectional line that divided the two groups and the massing of the long separated forces into one body of more than 3,000,000 members.

In Earlier Days

Dr. Covert stated the racial situation that justified separate groupings in pioneer periods has entirely passed and that if the men who fought for different causes in '61 and '65 have learned to walk together in the love of a common flag, so may northern and southern Presbyterians unite under one banner.

Passing from the question of sectional differences to those of doctrine, Dr. Covert said:

"The last few years have revealed more clearly than ever that the doctrinal differences that exist between these two major branches are simply those minor differences that, under the inclusive terms of our confession of faith are by it considered negligible."

Paramount Issue

Dr. Covert said the union of the various branches of the Presbyterian church is a paramount issue because it is needed to develop a fresh infusion of highly proper denominational moral; because it will preserve and pass to generations that follow those unique elements that have come down the years in the life and thought of historic Presbyterians.

He said that if the church was to successfully cope with the mechanistic influences now undermining belief in the spiritual reality of the universe it had better unify its forces.

Third Period Is On At Scout Camp

Large Number Of Boys From New Brighton At Local Camp This Week

The third scout period for boys of Lawrence County and New Brighton opened with the arrival of the boys Monday morning at 9:30. Eighty-seven campers from New Castle, Ellwood, New Brighton, and other points. The boys were registered and assigned to huts by Camp Director LeRoi M. Norton and Camp Clerk John Hancher.

After a hearty noon meal the campers were given a short talk by Mr. Norton and then taken on an exploration hike of the camp premises by Stockade leaders Mac Leslie, Earl Timblin, Dan Ryan and Henry Duey. The 39 boys from New Brighton were accompanied by Mr. H. J. Thorne and Lysle Latshaw who will assist with the camp program for the next two weeks.

Harry J. Ziegler, swimming instructor examined all of the new campers at the afternoon swimming period and divided the group into three sections, which are non swimmers, near swimmers and swimmers. All of the boys will be given special instruction in swimming and life saving work during the period. Dr. Coss from New Brighton was in camp when the boys were registered and gave each boy a thorough physical examination.

The four boys who handle the K. P. duty are well organized and handle the work of both efficiently and satisfactorily. The boys are Bob Allen, Herb McLure, Bill Grommes, and Nat Book. The evening color guard selected as the neatest appearing scouts in uniform were Jim Daily, Bob Bayers and Harold Morrison. The evening campfire program was a huge success and consisted of Stunts, group singing, dramatized story telling, bugle calls, fire by flint and steel (demonstration(and fire by friction (demonstration). More campers from New Castle, Ellwood, New Wilmington are registered for the period and are expected in camp Monday and Tuesday.

Russian Girl Is "Adding Machine"

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, July 23.—Nina Glagoleva, the girl with an "adding machine mind", has been declared possessor of one of the most amazing memories in the world by a quartet of Moscow University professors who examined her.

Nina is 22 years old and never had more than a grade school education. But she worked out intricate problems mentally in 15 seconds that took professors two hours with paper and pencil.

The girl at the tests performed by Profs. Kojevnikov, Chijevsky, Kojinsky and Kiselev, had 40 Russian words dictated to her and instantly repeated them in the order dictated. She did this five different times with a total of 200 different words without a mistake. Then series of as many as 29 words in any of a dozen foreign languages were dictated, and she repeated them correctly in the order given without a mistake.

Nine squared or cubed numbers of three digits in an instant. She had the square or cube root of nine digit numbers on the tip of her tongue when the professors finished reading the numbers to her. It took her from two to 20 seconds to extract the seventh root of 16 digit numbers and the ninth root of 20 digit figures.

The multiplication, division or subtractions of billions from billions was child's play for her. The examiners said her mind worked like a calculating machine, except that she won races with machines in 95 per cent of the trials. Almost invariably she would have the correct answer ready when the machine operator had released his finger from the last digit of the last number dictated.

DELTA U'S WANT DRESS REFORM, AND LOTS OF IT

Fraternity Men, All Hot And Bothered, Favor Tropical Attire

CHICAGO, July 23.—Clothes make the man. Today they did more than that. With the help of a 90 degree temperature they had him all hot and bothered. Seven hundred members of the alumni chapter of Delta Upsilon, a college fraternity, decided to do something about it.

"In the interests of health simplified clothing is a vital necessity," President John D. Scott told his sweltering brothers. "We can get many good ideas from the tropics.

"We might adopt the attractive oriental pith helmet, closely woven of light straw and covered with white linen. We should abandon all stiff collars, lay off our coats and wear an ensemble of shirt and trousers, loosely belted, of pongee or rajah silk of light weight and color.

"Pockets should be kept empty (cries of "easy") except for a handkerchief and money. Needed articles should be carried in a Boston bag or brief case. White canvas shoes and silk hose would complete a cool attire. All clothing should be kept immaculate."

Delta Upsilon has 17,000 members throughout America. Ambassador Charles G. Dawes is one. The fraternity leaders asserted they would launch a national campaign through other chapters for immediate dress reform.

New Castle Auto Parties Involved In Two Mishaps

BEAVER FALLS, July 23.—The week-end traffic on highways about Beaver valley was marred by two minor accidents according to the report of the state highway patrol officers. Both of these accidents were caused by one car attempting to pass another, but in neither case no one was injured. All of the parties concerned have been notified to appear before justices of the peace at later dates to have the differences adjusted and the proof of cause of the accidents determined.

When the sedan operated by Mrs. Fred Bethel of Akron, O., attempted to pass the sedan operated by George Finch of New Castle, near Koppel on route 18 Sunday morning about 7:30 o'clock, the cars became entangled and Finch lost control of his car. It sped along for about 175 feet and then went over a bank, and overturned. Neither car was badly damaged, and none of the passengers injured.

The second accident occurred at Hoytdale about 10 o'clock Sunday morning when Clarence Wilson of New Castle and K. C. McDonald of Wampum attempted to pass each other. In passing they came together and the Wilson car darted across the road, into the ditch, and struck a telegraph pole. It was considerably damaged, but no one was hurt.

Officer Lammie of the state highway patrol investigated both accidents.

Beaver County Scouts Enjoy Camp Phillips

NEW BRIGHTON, July 23.—Forty boys from New Brighton left on Monday morning from the park, Sixth street and Third avenue for the famous Camp John M. Phillips located on the Slippery Rock creek at Kennedys Mill, Rose Point.

The boys and their luggage were taken out in cars and trucks donated by well wishers and boosters of the Scout work. An additional number will leave next week to enjoy the latter half of the two-week period devoted to the New Brighton Scouts at the Lawrence county Boy Scout camp.

Epworth Leagues Will Have Rally

Plans have been completed for the sub-district rally of the Epworth League of the Methodist churches of New Castle and others of the community which will be an event of Thursday evening, July 25 in the First Methodist church.

Epworth Leagues cooperating in the Rally include First Methodist, Epworth, Croton Avenue, Mahoning, Savannah, Wampum and Edenburg.

Rev. S. L. Maxwell, D. D. pastor of the Epworth M. E. church will give the principal address of the evening. A recreation and social period will also be an outstanding feature of the program.

The rally will be in preparation for the annual session of the Epworth League Institute which will be held in Meadville, August 5 to 12.

ECZEMA CURED WITH ARTIC OINTMENT

My daughter was seriously affected with Eczema from the time she was a year old and we used almost everything that was recommended in an attempt to cure her, but she steadily became worse until her skin got so dry that it brushed off like powder.

And her neck, wrists, arms and shoulders were a mass of sores which seemingly could not be cured. I became acquainted with Mr. Klapperstick, who manufactures Arctic Ointment, and told him about it and he furnished me with a jar of Arctic Ointment which we used freely and today my little girl is free from the tortures of Eczema and her skin is as soft and smooth as a baby's. I most sincerely recommend that Arctic Ointment be given a trial for it certainly worked wonders with my daughter. A. I. Donnan, 912 Maryland avenue, New Castle, Pa. Infant Girl Victim Of Drowning, Hoped To Rescue Kitten

Infant Girl In Trying To Rescue Kitten From Creek Slips And Falls In

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., July 23.—The pet kitten of Mildred Violet Grandell 2, was playing around the family home today, the unwitting cause of the drowning of its little mistress.

The kitten had fallen into the waters of Dutch Creek near Claysville where the Grandell family lived. The little girl playing with Jane Copley along the banks of the shallow stream saw the kitten struggling and started down the bank to the rescue. As she reached for the kitten the Grandell girl slipped and fell into the water. The child drowned in two feet of water.

The Conley girl ran for aid and the body of Mildred Violet was recovered. The kitten was saved.

Two Bandits Put Butcher On Ice

ROCHESTER, Pa., July 23.—Max Hilpert, 35 proprietor of a meat market at Connecticut avenue and Reno street was held up today by two bandits in a room at the hear of his store, robbed of $1,300 and locked in an ice box he told police.

The holdup men entered secretly by a back door held a butcher's apron over Hilpert's head and after taking a wallet containing the money from his pocket fled as they had come. Vincent Alecci a clerk in the store who had been delivering an order returned to the market about five minutes after the hold up and released Hilpert from the ice box.

Scooter Rider Is Seriously Injured

(International News Service)

PITTSBRGH, July 23.—A scooter accident was blamed for a fractured skull received by Edware Kroner, 9, who was in Pittsburgh hospital today in a serious condition. The boy was racing along with his scooter when it hit an obstruction and he was thrown to the pavement on his head.

No great reform ever was achieved by officials who used apologies and soothing words to make the law effective.

State Sheriffs In Convention At Pittsburgh

Thirty Of Guardians Of Law From All Part Of State Attend Conference

WIVES WILL BE ENTERTAINED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—Committees appointed yesterday were to make reports today at the business sessions of the second day, State Sheriffs' Association, seventh annual convention. Thirty of the guardians of the state's peace were present, and more were expected to arrive today.

Mrs. Mary M. Leslie, of Butler County, one of the two women sheriffs in Pennsylvania, was expected to be present at the sessions today. Mrs Emily Frock, of Union County, was not here. Elaborate entertainment had been arranged for women visitors at the convention, including luncheons, sight seeing tours, bridge parties and theater parties. Today they were to be taken on a tour of the H. J. Heinz company.

A dinner dance for both sheriffs and wives was to be held at Long View Farms tonight.

Braun In Charge

Sheriff Robert H. Braun, of Allegheny County, was in charge of the first business meetings yesterday, because of delay in the arrival of Thomas G. Sterrett, of Erie, president of the association. The committees appointed yesterday to report on various phases of the law enforcement program were to bring in their brochures today.

President of the Pittsburgh city council extended a welcome to the visiting sheriffs yesterday, in behalf of the city. Election of officers was to take place tomorrow, at the closing session of the meeting.

NOT QUITE DECENT

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

TIMID

A texas educator, speaking of science and religion, says: "Timid souls who want to stop scientific investigation merely show their lack of faith."

If the truth taught by the church can not stand up under any attacts that scientists may make, then those truths are not real. Then they are not truths at all. The truths of religious teaching, if they are sound, do not need to fear investigation. If religion can not hold its place in the world, then it does not deserve to.

COLLARS

Dr. Lewin, London specialist, says women are getting ahead of men because they do not wear tight collars and keep their necks free and comfortable. Tight collars impede blood circulation in the brain. Man's fashion thus interferes with good mental work. The idea is not trivial. Bodily comfort is essential to mental concentration. Some day man, who is naturally much more conservative than woman, will devise saner, more comfortable garments for himself. At present he thinks too much of women's clothes and not enough of his own.

POLITICS AND PULPITS

The Methodist Bishop Denny will hear the condemnation of many and the praises of many for his insistence that the church keep out of politics. Opposing a resolution to pledge help to President Hoover in the matter of prohibition, the bishop says: "I do not think it is within the sphere of the church to do such things. I fear it means the ultimate division of the Methodist church, for many will refuse to be dragged as a church into politics."

The business of a preacher is to lift man's eyes to affairs above and beyond the issues of politics or state policies. The preacher loses his great influence and cheapens the quality of his guiding power when he mixes in political affairs.

PREACHING TEMPERENCE

Because it is not the business of the pulpit to lead voting campaigns does not mean that it is not the proper purpose of ministers of the gospel to preach temperance and right living. Concentrating, with political intent, upon one method of bringing about temperance and right living is not preaching on a high level.

THE BEST POLITICS

The best politics man can play in his affairs is not to play politics. Life is much easier, much less complex when you put your cards face up on the table and let everybody see what you have and what you are up to. It's much better, when we have a story to tell, to tell it all.

According to Dr. Morris Fishbein "a man's best friends are his hair and teeth." And sad to relate, even they are sometimes false.—The Topeka Daily Capital.

Local People To Attend Meeting At Conneautville

Miss Mildred Lewis And Sadie George Of This City To Take Part In Program

A number of New Castle people are planning to attend the annual session of the Conneautville camp meeting which will open Friday, Aug. 2, on the camp grounds, one mile north of Conneautville.

There will be three preaching services each day, at 10 a. m., 2:30, and 7:30 p. m., E. S. T.

The engaged speakers include Dr. John Paul, president of Taylor University; Dr. C. F. Wimberly of St. George, S. C.; Rev. Howard Sweeten, evangelist, of Ashley, Ill.; Rev George Bennard of Hermon Beech, Cal., writer of the hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross". The latter will be in charge of the music, assisted by Prof. George Eddie, song evangelist of Findley, O.

Commissioner Brengle of the Salvation Army of New York City; Dr. Lewis Akers of Wilmore, Ky., and Dr. Guy Wilson of Brookline, Mass., have also been invited to speak. Prof. Edson Crosby of Green Valley, Ill., known as "the man with the silver bells".

Miss Mildred George and Miss Sadie Lewis of New Castle will be in charge of the missionary work among the young people. Miss Emma Valentine of Clarendon, Pa., will have charge of the young people. The four large dormitories and cottages accommodating more than 400 guests at one time will be in charge of Ina Darling of Conneautville. The dining hall will be in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Adrian of East Liverpool, O.

The camp meeting will continue until August 11. Rev. W. C. Tyrrell, pastor of the Primitive Methodist church of this city, expects to be one of those who attend.

Rev. H. J. Buckingham of the Primitive Methodist church of Youngstown, O., a former pastor of the Primitive Methodist church of New Castle, is one of the vice presidents of the organization.

Isaac George of this city is one of the trustees. The camp meeting was organized in 1896.

Expect Good Report From Cathedral Drive

Tonight Will Be Test Night, In Effort To Raise $100,000 By August 1

Team captains and workers in the Cathedral Re-financing campaign, will meet for their weekly report dinner in the Cathedral this evening, when it is hoped to bring the total reported to date to $350,000.

Team workers expressed their determination to raise this sum at their meeting last week, and tonight will be accepted as a test of their ability to put the total to the $400,000 mark by August 2, the next succeeding report date.

Teams in the outside zones have been working hard to match the efforts of the New Castle workers, and a fine report is anticipated this evening. A special effort is being made to have a large attendance of the workers at tonight's dinner.

Two Stowaways On Fastest Steamer

Find Two Youth Hidden Away On German Lloyd Liner Bremen In Record Run

(International News Service)

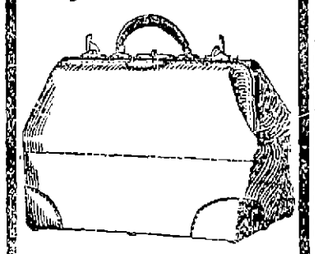

NEW YORK, July 23.—Yes, there was a stowaway aboard the Bremen. In fact, there were two stowaways.

Joseph Pater of Danzig, stowed away in the usual manner, but a compatriot, Adolph Guewe, lent his genial presence to the ship's night life for two days. Then it was discovered his ticket was only for the trip from Southampton to Cherbourg and he had just "stayed."

He was shut up in the ship's hospital for the remainder of the voyage.

Old Doblin had his faults, but it wasn't necessary to experiment and scheme to make him fool-proof.

Negligent Dog Owners Will Be Prosecuted; Warning By State

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, July 23.—Two hundred thousand unlicensed dogs roamed the streets and fields of Pennsylvania before the present state dog law was enacted eight years ago, according to the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. These roving dogs killed or maimed thousands of domestic animals and poultry. The sheep industry had been practically wiped from many sections. Wild game depredations by dogs exceeded all illegal killing. Mad dogs were a serious menace to human life.

Today the number of unlicensed dogs is very small compared to the number licensed and each day the number is being reduced. Sixteen thousand, two hundred and sixty-five worthless dogs were disposed of last year and 9,906 during the first six months this year. Almost 450 000 dogs are now licensed, 15,000 more than for the corresponding time last year, and only 40,000 less than for all of 1928.

Splendid co-operation by many cities and boroughs, persistent and thorough effort by the dog law enforcement agents of the Bureau of Animal Industry, and prompt action by most dog owners have brought far-reaching benefits to Pennsylvania. The sheep industry is coming back. Damages caused by uncontrolled dogs are decreasing. Last year damages paid amounted to $71,836, compared to $210,774 in New York state which has about the same number of sheep as Pennsylvania. The mad dog menace is being lessened. Good dogs are enjoying a better standing in the community.

Thus, the real purpose of the dog law which is to protect property, human life, livestock, poultry and good dogs from the ravages of the worthless, uncontrolled dog, is being accomplished.

A special effort is being made by the department to round up and prosecute all negligent dog owners. Four thousand six hundred and sixty owners have been fined already this year, 1,000 more than during the corresponding period a year ago.

It is not the desire of the department to prosecute dog owners but according to the law, it must do so wherever persons allow their dogs to go unlicensed and to run at large in violation of law. Dog law enforcement agents have been instructed to give particular attention to all sections where reports still indicate unlicensed dogs. "Get your dog licensed before an agent gets you" is the suggestion of the department.

Municipalities, where police are inactive, should communicate with the Bureau of Animal Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, regarding a plan which has proven successful in solving the dog problem in dozens of communities.

Aliquippa, Chester, Sharpsburg and other communities have eliminated the stray dog nuisance through the employment of special officers who work in co-operation with the state and are paid by the state for stray dogs disposed of.

A total of 6365 dogs were licensed in Lawrence county to June 1 this year, which compares with 6228 to June 1, 1928, and 6742 for all of 1928.

442 of the 451 important Hollywood actresses use Lux Toilet Soap

PHYLLIS HAVER, Pathé star, in the striking tiled bathroom built in Hollywood especially for her blonde loveliness. "No star can look lovely unless she has a really velvety skin. Lux Toilet Soap leaves my skin so gently smooth that I have no fear of the high-powered close-up lights."

Phyllis Haver

"Charm depends on lovely skin," say 39 leading Hollywood directors

ANY girl's greatest charm is lovely smooth skin. As Howard Higgins, Pathé director, expresses it, summing up the experience of leading Hollywood directors: "A girl's greatest loveliness is a beautiful skin—it is more important in a girl than wonderful eyes or a beautiful mouth."

He goes on to say: "I don't remember a girl ever reaching screen stardom without a rarely lovely skin—for make-up is no help under the all-revealing lights of the close-up. Smooth skin is absolutely necessary for popularity and loveliness."

Because this is true, nine out of ten screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap, and all the great studios have made it the official soap in their dressing rooms. In Hollywood they have found that this delightful soap—made by the famous French method—keeps the skin exquisitely lovely.

If you aren't already devoted to this daintily fragrant, white soap, do try it—this very day. Such abundant lather! And it keeps your skin as smooth as satin.

LOIS WILSON, Warner Brothers' popular star, says: "The satin-smooth skin that a close-up reveals must be as lovely as it looks—it is something that even the cleverest make-up cannot fake. I'm delighted with Lux Toilet Soap. It's a lovely soap!"

The next time you see DOROTHY SEBASTIAN, beautiful Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star, in a close-up, notice how petal-smooth Lux Toilet Soap keeps her skin. She says enthusiastically: "Lux Toilet Soap gives my skin such a lovely soft bloom that I never have to worry about whether it is exquisite enough to be 'studio skin.'"

Luxury such as you have found only in fine French soaps at 50¢ and $1.00 the cake . . . now LUX TOILET SOAP 10¢

Plan Air Commuters Line To Washington

By FRANCIS L. ARMSTRONG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—"Ho hum!" The busy, commuting congressman may sigh as he settles back in a barber's chair aboard the 7:10 airplane for Washington, "after we get this tariff matter settled today I'll come back to Pittsburgh for dinner and then spend the evening driving through Schenley Park."

Maybe they'll have a manicurist, too, to trim the congressman's finger nails while he is commuting daily to the nation's capital.

That, at least, is the vision of Captain Jack Morris and Colone. Harry C Fry Jr., his backer. Tomorrow morning the Stinson-Detroiter plane owned by Colonel Fry will take off from Bettis Field, hoping to make four or five round trips to Washington each day, with refueling at Hoover Field, in the capital city.

The idea is to establish a daily commuting service between the two cities, with trips so frequent that persons with business in Washington may fly there, transact it and possibly be back in Pittsburgh for a matinee or for business here. The published declaration of Clarence M. Young, United States Department of Commerce, that endurance flights should be made between cities was understood to have fathered the idea.

Commuting back and forth between Pittsburgh and Washington, backers of the idea contend, should be as simple a matter as catching the 7:10 train from the suburbs into the city. And every convenience would be provided that is possible. Station KDKA, Pittsburgh, offered to install a broadcasting set in the plane for constant communication, possibly in case a business man goes along who wishes to keep in constant touch with his office.

Bo-Broadway
by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press

NEW YORK, July 23.—Twenty years ago she was a vaudeville headliner. She had saved her money, invested it wisely and could write her check for $80,000. Then Fate caught up with her. She was married to a weak-chinned wastrel who squandered her fortune and then curled up and died.

I met her the other day. She's sixty years old, worn and disillusioned, employed in the linen room of a Park Avenue hotel, earning in one week what she used to spend in a single afternoon for tea at Sherry's.

TEMPORARILY INCONVENIENCED

The other day a bevy of Federal agents descended upon the largest Dissipation Den in the Alcohol Belt, rolled out several hundred barrels of Limpsy Lager and Cemetery Hooch while a crowd of several thousand stood by, mourning and wailing. Although the street was choked and traffic blocked for over an hour, not one of "Groping" Grover's Boys in Blue lifted his head above the horizon. As the 152 customers filed sadly into the street the Dean of the Drinkerie assured them that business would be going on as usual the following day at the same old stand.

ALIBI

Connie Miles, genial, talented and urbane chronicler of society events for Mr. "Hoist," sat in a little poker game the other evening with the author of these lines, and backed his judgment and $70 on two pairs against Ye Scribe's three sevens.

Connie's alibi was that he didn't know it was five card stud. He said he thought he was playing Seven-Toed-Pete.

Call again, Connie!

HOLLYWOOD IS AS BROADWAY WAS

When Hollywood stopped thinking and went "talkie" the first thing they did was send out a frantic call for Patrick J. Francis, The Man Who Discovered Broadway. Patrick packed his nail file and joke book and as he climbed aboard the Twentieth Century remarked to reporters in a tremolo: "Duty has a voice that rings like a bugle call in the night!"

Hollywood's gain was the 42nd Street and Broadway Country Club's loss.

Patrick loves club life. The first thing he did after reaching Hollywood and climbing into a pair of white linen golf pants was to join a Breakfast Club and the following morning sprained his ankle hurrying to get there in time for the grapefruit.

"Hollywood," he writes, "looks like Broadway twenty years ago. Old Wils. Mizner, author of the line: 'There's a little larceny in all of us' is running a smart casino, and any afternoon on the Rue de le Quince you cannot snap a prune pit without hitting such celebrities as Collier, Catlett, Ballard MacDonald, Jack Gardener, Tom Garrity, Luther Reed, Ben Hapgood Burt and Clarke Silvernail.

COME TO GOTHAM!

Through the medium of this column the Ebony and Ivory Belt of New York extends an invitation to George McCoy, the young unbleached American who had only fifty cents when jailed the other day in Atlanta. Two hours later, after a session at cards, he posted $11 bail and departed with $4 profit.

Mr. McCoy, there is room for thy peculiar talents in this he-man's town.

G. A. R. Commander Will Be Honor Guest

Woman's Relief Corps Will Hold Annual Outing Here July 30

Woman's Relief Corps No. 11, Auxiliary to Post No. 100, Grand Army of the Republic, will hold its annual picnic at Cascade Park on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, July 30. It gives promise of being one of the most interesting of such events ever held. A picnic dinner will be served at 6 o'clock that evening.

Special invitations have been extended to all veterans of the Civil War, their wives and widows, to be present as guests of honor of the local Woman's Relief Corps on that date.

Among the special honor guests of the occasion will be Philip Engelskirger, of Franklin, Pa., Commander of the Pennsylvania Department of the Grand Army of the Republic and Mrs. Emma J. McClintock, of Oil City, president of the Pennsylvania Department of the Women's Relief Corps.

Delegates from Oil City, Franklin, Beaver Falls and Butler are expected to be in attendance.

Y. CAMP NOTES

Stunt night at the Y. M. C. A. camp was the mecca for 115 visitors on Saturday. After the usual evening games the campers and visitors journeyed to the recreation tent where each tent put on some sort of entertainment.

Tent No. 1 put on "Killing of the Chicken" and "The Bull Fight" which was real humorous and included the following boys: Henry Bucci, Ross Bridenbaugh, David Gatrall, Stanley Witherspoon, Bob Wallace, Jim Riley, Dick Ketler and George Ketler. Tent No. 2 put on "Radio Set" which was a real novelty and included the following campers: Reid Shiner, Bill Patton, Russell Young, Kenneth Jerry, Jack Thompson, Bill McCormick, Bob Withers and Dwight Davis. Tent No. 3 put on a humorous number, "The Dollars Always Come Back," which was followed by a humorous duet. Those taking part were Jim Fox, Donald McIntosh, Jack Fix, Charles Slack, Victor Marino, Bob Mercer, Dean Gibson and John Cunningham.

Tent No. 4 put on "The Gathering of the Nuss," a farce which kept the crowd in spasms of laughter. Ed Fritz, Yost Cunningham, Bob Muse, Earl Pratt, Bob Mackie, Bill Dunlap, Bill Huston, Jim Huston and Jack Fritz were the "Nuts". Tent No. 5, composed of Billy Shilton, Gillis Falls, Walter Wood, Jim Foster, Jim Hartland, Joe Fisher and George Swisher, put on an original and humorous number, "School Days," "Hookey" and "Teachers Mistake" which brought memories of by-gone days to mother and dad.

Tent No. 6 featured "A Race in Dressing" which reminded one of a college dorm scramble. George Stitzinger, Donald Cole, Dale Gardner, Edwin Wilson, Gethin Thomas, Ernest Stitzinger and Lloyd Harris put this act on. Headquarters tent presented "The Famous Talking Animal." Hen MacNicholas, Rog Meermans, Andy Makie, Merle Hart and Bob Rodgers were responsible for this demonstration.

Following the stunts the mammoth camp fire stack was lighted which sent showers of sparks over 200 feet in the air.

The following boys were named for awards of the camp. Highest point boy and all around camper is Jack Fix. He will receive Y C and button and highest emblem.

Relativity Of Time And Space

By S. S. MYERS

RELATIVITY

An "Anxious Inquirer" writes as follows:

"I am inclosing herewith an article clipped from a magazine in which the writer attempts to explain the Einstein theory of Time and Space. I have read it over at least a dozen times, but am unable to make head or tail of it. Can you explain what he is driving at?"

I am not surprised that you fail to get the sense of the article inclosed. The writer has taken the easiest way of expressing himself which is by the use of technical terms and mathematical symbols, such as only the scientist, versed in astronomical mathematics is likely to understand. I confess that much of it is Greek to me, yet I think I catch his meaning and will try to state it in plain English. However, it is no easy task because there are so many things connected with the idea that cannot be put into simple language. Nevertheless, here goes:

What he means to say is that Time and Space are practically one and the same thing, and that they are arbitrary terms—man made earth measurements. That movement and space forms the basis for the reckoning of Time.

Time is the distance in Space through which a body moves. Space is all outlying emptiness which is incomprehensible to us except as the distance between two points or objects. There was no Time in our solar system until its mechanical structure was completed. When the dense, dark envelop of steam and vapor which surrounded the earth during its cooling off period and its early geological history evaporated and the clouds rolled away letting in the light of the sun then, and then only did Time on the earth begin. And that Time is based on the earth's rotation as it journeys around the sun. If the earth were to stop rotating and remain stationary in its orbit there would be no Time because we would be consuming no Space.

I realize that this is rather difficult to understand, and it strikes me that I am not making is very clear, but I am trying desperately to do so. Let us approach it from another angle:

For instance, with that nebulous body floating out yonder in the heavens there is no such thing as Time as we reckon it. With it a thousand years are but as a day. Not until it condenses into a sun and throws off planets and those planets rotate and revolve around parent sun will there be Time in that system. And it will not be our Time, neither will any two of the planets have the same Time. That will be governed by the distance through Space that each one travels. No two planets in our own system have the same Time. A year on Mars is nearly twice as long as a year on the earth, because Mars travels over a wider Space on its journey around the sun.

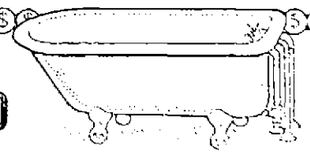

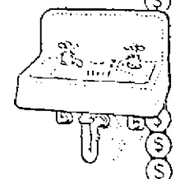

It takes the light of Sirius eight years to reach the earth. The Time taken in doing so is because of the Space between the two bodies. The north star is 50 light years distance from the earth, and because of the Time consumed by light traveling at the rate of 186,300 miles a second we can calculate and measure the Space between the north star and the earth.

This, in brief, is what the writer of the article in question means by the relativity of Time and Space—so closely related that one cannot exist without the other in a moving universe.

CLEANS TEA KETTLES

When tea kettles have been in use for some time, a coating forms on the inside. To remove this dissolve a tablespoon of borax in a kettle of hot water and allow the water to boil one hour.

Mexico will drill through a cathedral floor in quest of oil. It seems a shame to waste a perfectly good atrocity like that in time of peace.

Knights Ready For Big Outing

Baby Show Will Be Feature Of Outing As Usual

Everything is set for the greatest family picnic in the history of the popular Knights of Columbus outings at Cascade park, which will be an event of Wednesday.

The committees in charge have worked hard for the success of the event and there is every indication that their efforts will be rewarded by the attendance of a record number of people.

There will be something doing every minute of the day and the program includes the annual Baby show, in which there have been a record number of entries this year. Valuable prizes will be awarded in many of the events.

Another feature this year will be the awarding of a fine chair to the family having the largest number of its members present at the park.

There will be free coffee and cream served in the picnic grove by Mrs. Sennett. There will be free Rickies and Dixie cups for the kiddies and free rides for the boys and girls.

Another feature of the affair will be the baseball game to be staged between the married and single men of St. Mary's council No. 812, Knights of Columbus. Both sides are claiming a victory but the result is believed to be very much in doubt.

The other features of the days program include a kiddie car race on the dance pavilion following the Baby show, swimming race for boys under 15 years in the swimming pool; baseball throwing contest, standing broad jump, standing board jump for boys under 15 years; shoe race for boys under fifteen years of age; fifty yard dash for boys under ten years of age; 100 yard dash for boys under fifteen years; fifty yard dash for girls under ten years; 100 yard dash for girls 11 to 15 years of age; three legged race for boys under ten years; three legged race for girls up to fifteen years; wheelbarrow race for boys to fifteen years of age; fat ladies race; fat men's race.

Light Rains Fail To Halt Program At Army Range

(International News Service)

CAMP THOMPSON, MT. GRETNA, Pa., July 23.—Light rains at intervals, during Monday night and this morning, failed to halt the activities at the rifle range, combat problem and medical regiment areas today.

Troops are continuing their training on the damp and soft earth of the military reservation. The 103rd engineers, in command of Colonel Jackson W. Study of Philadelphia, marched to Lake Duffey, near the 103rd medical regiment area, to complete the work of erecting pontoon bridges for truck transports and foot soldiers.

Units of the 111th infantry, commanded by Col. Charles B. Finley, marched to the 75-foot range today for firearm instruction, while the 112th infantry, commanded by Col. C. Blaine Smathers of Grove City, engaged an imaginary enemy on the squad combat range.

Companies of the 103rd medical regiment, commanded by Col. Edward M. Bland of Coraopolis, practiced field work in the care of wounded for a lengthy period and later in the day these troops returned to the model hospital to receive instructions in wound dressing and the rolling of bandages.

Girl Is Killed; Struck By Auto

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—A two-year-old girl was dead and two persons had been injured today when struck by automobiles in the Pittsburgh district. Ruth Miller, 2, was fatally injured when struck by a truck said to have been driven by Joseph Jefsky of Millvale.

Stanley Zeleskis, believed to have been struck by a hit-and- run driver, was found lying in the street in McKeesport and was taken to the McKeesport hospital. Physicians said he had received a fractured skull.

Joseph Pustioni, 7, of Braddock, was lacerated and received a broken right foot when he was struck when he was playing with friends last night, police reported.

Only one of the drivers was positively identified, police said. Jefsky was ordered to appear before the coroner at an inquest into the death of the Miller girl, although witnesses said she ran in front of the machine too suddenly for Jefsky to apply the brakes.

Wear Pajamas On City Streets If You Desire

(International News Service)

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., July 23.—Anyone who wants to can wear pajamas on the streets of this town.

The inalienable right to dress as one chooses, so long as there is no indecent exposure, was formally established by city proclamation today following the test made by W. O. Saunders, proprietor of the local newspaper.

It is hot in Elizabeth City and Editor Saunders decided something should be done about it. He strolled down Main street in his pajamas and a policeman decided to take him before the mayor to decide which, if any, city ordinance was being violated.

Not only did His Honor dismiss the editor, but by solemn proclamation established "the inherent right" of any citizen to dress as he chose within decency limits. Furthermore, the mayor states he wished he had "nerve enough" to do likewise.

Governor Gives Bond Answer

Tells Why Bond Is Required Of Service Station Tax Collectors

BULLETIN

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 23.—"The state cannot afford to trust the collection of its revenue to anyone who is not responsible enough to produce a small bond."

That today was Governor John S. Fisher's answer to a suit in equity threatened by independent gasoline retailers testing the validity of the act passed by the recent legislature which not only increased the tax to four cents, but also required posting of a corporate surety bond.

During the session Governor Fisher headed opposition to the bill of Representative Ellwood Turner, Delaware, which would have made the gasoline tax collectible at the source. Turner, backed by a considerable bloc in the House, argued that all of the big wholesalers were responsible financially and should collect the tax and that no system could be devised which would prevent a certain percentage of the 27,000 retailers from "knocking down" many of the motorists' dollars.

Clarke Pleads Guilty To Bank Wrecking Charge

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 23.—The sensational $5,000,000 collapse of Clarke Brothers private banking institution was brought into the limelight again today when James Rae Clarke one of the four partners, unexpectedly plead guilty to 26 charges covering both federal and state indictments.

The indictments charging specifically using the mails to defraud and accepting deposits while knowing the firm was insolvent were returned against the partners last week.

Clark in entering his pleas of guilty absolved the other partners of all blame for the crash and promised to turn over his personal assets to reimburse the victimized depositors.

United Cigar Co. Will Occupy Room

Signs on the doors of the store of the Whalan Drug Company at Mill and Washington streets, this afternoon, announced that they were "closed."

According to a statement by the manager of the store, the room will continue to be used by the United Cigars Company, which has jointly used the room, and after some alterations will be reopened in about a week for the cigar store.

It is understood the drug stock is being removed.

MAN FOUND WITH DISLOCATED ARM

Officer Augostine picked up Tom Gardner near the Roumanian hall on South Jefferson street after he had fallen and dislocated an arm. He had the man taken to the New Castle hospital where he will remain until he recovers from his injury when he will be taken to the police station for further investigation.

LITTLE GIRL HIT BY AN AUTOMOBILE

H. C. Welker of 717 Cleveland avenue, reported to the police that he was driving south on Rebecca Way, near the Allen Market, when a little girl named March came out into the alley in front of his machine and was knocked down. She was apparently not seriously injured.

STOLEN AUTOMOBILE FOUND IN PITTSBURGH

Automobile of Lawrence Fehrenbach of 141 Boyles avenue, which was stolen from South Beaver street, over the week-end, has been located in Pittsburgh, according to the report received by the police authorities.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The professional Prohibitionists and reform organizations, who usually see eye to eye on all questions affecting the Volstead law and its enforcement, gave further indication today of being split the proverbial forty ways over George W. Wickersham's suggest for "modifying" the existing prohibition set-up.

While the Anti-Saloon League, the Methodist board of prohibition, temperance and public morals, and lesser organizations have given cautious and tacit approval of Wickersham's proposal to take the federal government out of the business of raiding local speak-easies, not so Bishop James Cannon, Jr., the militant leader of southern Methodistism.

After waiting ten days, Bishop Cannon pronounced Wickersham's program today to be "premature and defeatist" in intent, and "hazy and uncertain" as to scope, even though he approved of that portion of the famous letter which seemingly called upon the individual states to better cooperate with the federal government in enforcement.

It is all very well and proper, Bishop Cannon said, to compel the states to assist the government in enforcing the Volstead law, "but if any state fails to do so, then the federal government must declare that it will maintain the constitution inviolate and that it will appropriate whatever amount of money is necessary to furnish a sufficient force of suitable men to secure effective enforcement, even if it shall require $100,000,000 or more annually."

"If," the bishop continued, "hundreds of millions are spent for the army and navy to protect from external foes, no sum is too great to protect from nullifiers and traitors at home."

In other words, Bishop Cannon is willing for the federal government to go out of the local speak-easy business, provided that business is taken over vigorously by the states themselves—and, if New York, Maryland, Wisconsin and other states that have repealed their state enforcement laws do not come up to the mark, then he would have the federal government step into those states heavy-footed and heavy-handed.

This would be tantamount to the application of the old "Force Bill" to recalcitrant states. Some northern Republicans have always favored the application of such a law to those southern states which have circumvented the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments concerning negro voting. The late Senator Lodge (R) of Massachusetts, sponsored such a bill for years, but the south always was able to beat it in congress.

The northern anti-prohibitionists from such states as New York and Massachusetts are now chuckling and making sarcastic remarks about the shoe being on the other foot.

Meanwhile, the law enforcement commission plodded its way today as if unmindful of the storm and furore raised by the letters of its chairman.

Announcement was made today by Capt. Ray Walter that the troop has been recruited to full peace time strength.

Bears In Market Forced To Cover

Bulls Hit Back In Third Hour Of Trading This Afternoon

By W. S. COUSINS.
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, July 23.—Bulls in the stock market hit back during the third hour of trading at the Bears and forced them to cover up on the motor and specialty stocks they have been selling short in the last week or two. Chrysler's first half-yearly earnings statement, showing net income of $4.06 a share in the first six months of 1929, started the ball rolling and the upward surge of prices carried Chrysler and General Motors about 4 points from the low of the week.

Professionals on both sides of the market were unusually busy in seeking for "openings" to boom or depress stock prices. The motors slipped off in the forenoon, and before recovering to 70¼. General Motors registered a new low for the year at 66½. Chrysler started the day nearly 2 points higher, at 69¾ and moved up to 71½ in a fairly active turnover. General Electric's new advance to 357 was the feature of the high-priced specialties, and numerous popular utility shares sold up 2 to 4 points.

Rail stocks had the benefit of a fine exhibit of car loadings in domestic transportation business and a higher proportion of net earnings to running expenses. New York Central led the recovery in this sections of the list, but good buying was also in evidence in Pennsylvania, Chicago and Northwestern, Atchison and Allegheny corporation.

Rail stocks advanced easily on a comparatively small volume of buying orders, as was evidenced by the spurt in New York Central from 239½ to 242¼ within a half-hour period.

Traders were generally on the long side of U. S. Steel, which accounted for its confident advance to above 207 in active trading.

Bad Check Passer Busy In This City

The city police today issued a warning to the people of the city in general to be sure whose checks they were accepting and cashing.

An effort was made during the day by a man to pass a check for $46 on the New Castle Feed company for two tires at Bill's Tire shop, 31 North Jefferson street.

The proprietor declined to accept the check and on investigation by Detective John Young and Officer Longstreth it was found that it was a bogus check.

The man attempting to pass the check gave the name of J. O. Farrell and was tall, light complexioned and about 45 years of age. He was wearing a blue serge suit and was smooth shaven.

What's the use? A man's intelligence isn't fully developed until he's 45, and then it's just a few years until golf.

Kills Father With His Gun

Outthrilling the wildest fiction is the story of Catherine Crawford, right, restored to the arms of her mother after her unflinching narrative of how her quivering fingers pressed the trigger of the revolver with which she killed her father, George H. Crawford, left, in their Keyport, N. J., home, above. According to her story, the father had ordered her to his room and, after locking the door, his actions frightened her. She grabbed the pistol she saw on the dresser, thinking to stop him, but as he advanced she fired. After hearing her story Prosecutor Quinn indicated he would not ask for an indictment.

'TOUGH HOMBRES' BENEFIT FLYING

In addition to setting a record for other flyers to shoot at Loren Mendell and R. B. Reinhardt, California aviators who broke the world's endurance re-fueling record in their plane, the "Angeleno," demonstrated a way to lubricate an airplane engine during flight, thereby avoiding sticky or broken parts. After W. E. Thomas, motor expert, examined the motor, following the flight, he declared it was substantially in the same condition as when the plane took the air. Duplicate oiling systems to every working part, force feeding to the rocker arms, and periodic greasing with a pressure gun in the pilot's cabin allowed the parts to move so smoothly that it was found clearances had increased only 10-1000 inch after 246 hours of continuous operation. Motorists Have Narrow Escape

Two motorists, one of whom is said to have been a New Castle woman and the other a Pittsburgh man, had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday night, when the machine in which they were riding crashed through the bridge railing over the Connequenessing at Harmony and plunged into the bed of the stream approximately 30 feet below.

Neither were badly hurt, the water breaking some of the force of the car's plunge. They were able to get out of the car and were pulled from the car, to which they were clinging in the car in the bed of the stream when rescued by a boat.

They received first aid treatment from a Harmony physician, after which they came on to this city. It is said they entered a local hospital for treatment, but officials of both institutions deny anyone answering their description had been admitted to the hospital.

Malta Federation Members Enjoy Picnic

Annual field day of the Pennsylvania Ohio Malta Federation held Saturday, July 20 at Cascade park was a decided success in every way and was attended by large delegations from Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. There were also many visitors from other states and places including New York City and West Virginia.

There were quite a number of grand lodge officers in attendance from both Pennsylvania and Ohio. The day was ideal and all had a fine time.

Burtt G. French, president of the federation and his staff of officers arrived early in the day and soon had their headquarters established, where members and visitors were registered and presented with identification badges.

Companion Kohl and his assistants had charge of the dancing in the Rainbow Terrace where the Park Serenaders rendered the latest popular dance music.

There were many entrants in the waltzing competition with park officials acting as judges. Manager Shaner announced the names of the prize winning couple, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Book of Youngstown, O.

Grand Commander Charles Schmidt of Pittsburgh had planned to attend but owing to the serious illness of his wife, sent his regrets together with Grand Prelate W. E. Doerr. A telegram of sympathy was sent immediately to Grand Commander Schmidt.

At five o'clock a very interesting program of sports took place on the pony track grounds with Companion Paul Bedford in charge as field judge and Bill Ellison as official starter.

Peanut race for boys—first, James Baker, Girard college, Philadelphia, Pa.; second, C. Jenkins, New Castle, Pa.; peanut race for girls—first, Maxime Houk, Ellwood City, Pa.; second, Cleata Southern, East Palestine, O.; third, Olive Brakeman, Oil City, Pa.; fifty yard dash for boys—first, Ken McKay, New Castle; second, Philip Guy, New Castle, Pa.; twenty yard dash for girls—Maxime Houk, Ellwood City; surprise contest for ladies—Mrs. Wayne Baird, Ellwood City.

Tug-of-war between northern and southern groups—won by northern group, H. R. Kohl, captain. Sam Battersby of Ellwood City was captain of the defeated group.

Following the sports events, a picnic supper was enjoyed in the grove, where Companion J. A. Thompson had charge of reserving tables for all Maltas, their families and friends. Companions W. C. Hess and A. I. Broadhead of the New Castle commandery had charge of the coffee which was served free.

R. L. Lloyd of Erie was general chairman of the field day committee and R. L. Aldstadt was chairman of the badge committee. The executive committee consisted of C. H. Miller, general chairman, Martin Black, C. H. Brakeman, B. G. French and F. A. Berg, Wayne Baird, secretary and Charles Grinder, treasurer.

Park Manager Carl Shaner was personally thanked by the various committees for the manner in which he provided for the entertainment of the people and in responding, invited the federation to return another year.

To Let Contract For Another Link In Perry Highway

Northern End Of Highway To Be Constructed By State This Year

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Pa., July 23.—The county commissioners have received word that the bids would be open August 2 for the construction of the northern end of the Perry highway.

The route traverses Perry, Fairview and Cool Spring townships for a distance of 60,481 feet and 550 feet in the borough of Mercer.

The route in Mercer is to be over the back road, or Franklin avenue. It is expected to start construction as soon as possible after the letting.

The latest word from Pittsburgh concerning the work on the Perry highway there is to the effect that work on a new link between West View and the city line is to be rushed to completion. The 30-foot-wide concrete roadway will be built by the state, which will provide a more direct route and contain a better grade than the old.

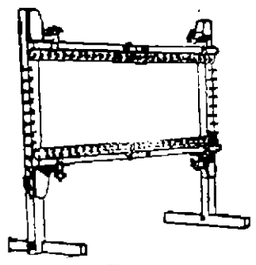

The new stretch is expected to be completed by fall.

Harvest is now occupying the farmers of Mercer county, and the weather of the past week has been ideal for them. Wheat harvest has also started in some sections.

County Commissioner Harry Hunter and County Engineer Frank P. Graham are spending every available hour inspecting the bridges in this county. They hope this year to inspect all the bridges. It has been found that most of them need repairs of some kind. Many need new floors, repainting or the channel needs correcting to prevent high water. This system, established last year, is saving the county thousands of dollars. The old adage, "A stitch in time saves nine", is the new motto of the commissioners, and wherever the cleaning of the channel will save the abutments of the bridge, the obstruction is removed. So far this year 25,000 feet of plank have been used in bridge work.

R. B. Francisco, who recently underwent an operation at the Mercer Cottage hospital, has recovered sufficiently to be able to return home. His condition is considered favorable.

Tommie Sampson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Sampson, is able to be out again after the injuries sustained when his bike skidded when he went to turn in North Pitt street. He suffered from a slight concussion of the brain, cut knee and hand, and numerous other bruises.

Construction Work Is In Full Progress

New Wilmington Is Quite Busy Place With Several Projects Under Way

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, July 23.—Summer construction activity in and around the college town started this week in full boom. Workmen began the second week of grading and other activity preliminary to pouring concrete on the Pulaski-New Wilmington road, working from each end of the prospective stretch of new highway.

Finishing most of the sidewalk installation at the west side of the building, the large gang of laborers on the Westminster College campus job began on the east side of the main structure at the start of this week.

The second week of work was also begun by the New Wilmington missionary conference construction crew. These men started the week by overhauling the conference equipment and preparing it for the convention which starts the first week in August.

Other minor building and construction activity is also being pushed through by citizens of the borough so that nearly all of the village workers are now active.

New Wilmington's representative and also that of the Mercer Presbetery, Miss Louise Adams, left here today to attend the national Y. P. C. U. convention at Mountain Lake Park, Md. Miss Adams is one of the eight young people who will compete in the national oratorical contest to be held there. The subject of the contest is, "The World for Christ".

A slight improvement is reported in the condition of Mrs. Laura Crooks, who suffered a stroke early last week.

Mr. Stevens of Toronto left for his home after spending a week visiting at the home of Mrs. J. H. Boyd here.

Triplets Born To California Mother

(International News Service)
ROSS, Cal., July 23.—Ushered into the world by a caesarean operation, triplets born to Mrs. Laura Hall, 18, of Mill Valley were the center of attraction at the Ross General hospital Monday.

Two were girls and the other a boy. One of the girls weighed four pounds and 12 ounces ,the other was nine ounces lighter, and the boy tipped the scales at three pounds and 12 ounces.

The mother and triplets are reported "to be doing as good as could be expected," and as for the father, Victor Hall, 20.....

Back of the satisfaction of Oldsmobile owners stands the satisfaction of Oldsmobile workers in a job well done

AFTER all, what is a motor car? Is it merely so much wood and metal . . . so many gears and cotter-pins?

Or is it, as Oldsmobile workers believe, something more . . . the culmination of the skill and ideals of the men who build it, from the first engineering sketch through to the final check-up and inspection? To express this spirit one of these workers—a veteran milling machine operator in the Oldsmobile factory—coined the phrase, "Anything short of my best is not acceptable." And this charge of responsibility has been adopted by his fellow workers throughout the organization, as their plant slogan.

Oldsmobile engineers are constantly at work—proving and re-proving the product they design—testing the merit of new ideas—ever seeking the better thing. In addition, they call upon the vast resources of the General Motors Proving Ground and Research Laboratories. Always they have in mind . . . "Anything short of my best is not acceptable."

Skilled operators, unerringly guiding great machines—efficient workmen, accurately fitting Oldsmobiles together, part by part—keen-eyed inspectors, rigidly checking the work of the producers—each man, whatever his job, from the highest executive to the newest shop employee, follows the same rule . . . "Anything short of my best is not acceptable."

The result is a standard of precision, a degree of accuracy, worthy of the finest cars.

The satisfaction of Oldsmobile workers in a job well done is largely responsible for the thorough satisfaction Oldsmobile owners find in their cars. Oldsmobile owners are loyal, because they know that Oldsmobile is loyal to its owners, not only in the matter of fine workmanship but in all the details of manufacture—in the quality of materials, in the progressiveness of Oldsmobile engineering, and in the generous measure of Oldsmobile value.

This owner enthusiasm is reflected in Oldsmobile's tremendous and ever-increasing success. Month after month, Oldsmobile sales continue to grow. Time after time, new owners write "My neighbor praised his Oldsmobile—and I find that everything he said is true."

Oldsmobile respects this public confidence. And, in return, Oldsmobile promises the public, in behalf of every Oldsmobile worker, to maintain steadfast allegiance to the Oldsmobile pledge: "Anything short of my best is not acceptable."

Severe Sunburn Cases Are Reported In State

"A number of really severe cases of sunburn have been brought to the department's attention during the past several weeks. The victims have started out for their stay at shore, mountain or lake resort filled with enthusiasm and ended it in an invalid's bed at home. 'Too much sun and too little sense' was the general verdict," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health, today.

"There has been so much talk about the healing power of the sun's rays that a popular misconception seems to exist on this subject. Too many people foolishly imagine that a body unexposed to the sun's rays for the better part of the year can suddenly and lengthily be thus subjected and physical profit be derived therefrom. The facts, however, are directly opposite.

"It is one thing to accustom one's tender skin to the sun's rays in 15-minute graduated doses over a period of days, and quite another one to flop down on a sandy beach the first day of the vacation and bake one's self into blisters, misery and illness. Yet that is the offense against nature which is being constantly committed by many thousands on their annual vacation sojourn.

The sensible person will realize that the two weeks' outing should be utilized wisely for health and recreation rather than as an excuse to indulge in excesses, including over-exposure to the sun.

"Again, there are apparently many misguided people who assume that they must come back with a tan in order to advertise the fact that they have been away. And while a real tan is no liability, it to often assumes the form of blisters. Such a condition certainly isn't anything of which to boast. Rather, it indicates a degree of foolishness quite inexcusable.

"If your desire to inform others that you have had a summer vacation becomes too strong to overcome despite the fact that few will be personally interested in your outing, then rely rather upon conversation than on an outraged epidermis to spread the news.

"The sun, even at its best, should be but a small part of your vacation program. Change of scene, removal from routine, meeting new people, fresh air, good food and rest are the main factors.

"Therefore, don't permit your enthusiasm for the bathing beach or a tan complex to get the better of your judgment. Cash in on your vacation. One of the main ways of not doing so is to become a sun-fiend. Respect the sun."

Ruth St. Dennis says if everybody would sing and dance there would be no crime. In our opinion a good many people now attempting it are at least committing a misdemeanor.—The Butte Daily Post.

Kiwanians Enjoy Trip Through Victor's Camp

ELLWOOD CITY, July 23.—Thirty-five Kiwanians enjoyed a back-to-nature meeting Monday evening when they motored out to Dick Victor's camp on the Slippery Rock creek, for a dinner-meeting.

Regulation camp rations were served them in the mess hall, and the evening was spent going through the spacious grounds of the camp. They were shown the new council fire stockade, built by the boys of slab boards. In this they hold their council meetings. There are four nicely equipped tennis courts, and a new hospital is being erected for the boys. A number of the Kiwanians enjoyed a strenuous game of volley ball.

Many Motorists Receive Tags For All-Night Parking

ELLWOOD CITY, July 23.—Borough ordinance No. 747 which was passed some time ago by borough council regarding the parking of automobiles on the paved streets after 2 a. m. was no idle murmur as many citizens have found out when they ignored the ordinance and left their vehicles in front of their homes.

Monday morning the police were so busy dashing around to parked cars that they nearly ran out of tags. The motorists promptly reported to police headquarters on Monday and donated various sums to the borough treasury.

The reason for passing this ordinance was the fact that the early-morning streets cleaners could not clean the streets properly on account of the number of parked cars and had to zig-zag about the streets in a most untidy manner. The police department wishes co-operation in the matter which is being enforced for the betterment of the city.

Chairman Admits Lucky Break As Farm Board Begins Work

Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 23.—"We start off with a lucky break," remarked Chairman Alexander Legge, of the federal farm board, as he and his fellow agriculture experts assembled for the first time the other day in Washington.

Chairman Legge was referring to the market bulge in wheat—due, as he plainly implied, to prospects of an overseas crop shortage, maybe, to take up all of America's last year's surplus, as well as the whole of our 1929 yield—and do it at good stiff prices, too.

Ah, Mr. Legge, a fine politician you are!—I certainly don't think.

A chance for you and your board to grab off all the credit for having saved the farmers, right from the jump!—and you attribute it to pure luck! Oh, my!

Believe me, Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde made no such mistake.

"Farm prices are up and coming already," he proclaimed exultantly. "See how wheat's advanced, thanks solely to the psychological effect of the new board's appointment, even before it has had time to map out a plan."

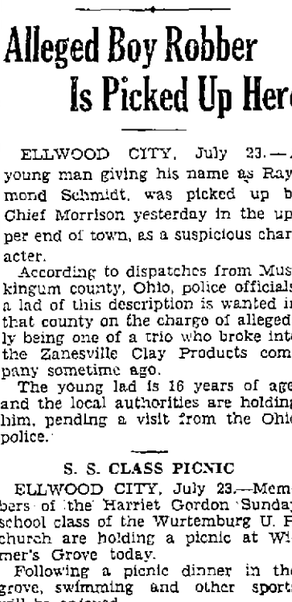

At that, doesn't it beat four of a kind how luck does play into the G. O. P.'s hand?

It will be a wonder if the corn borer, the boll weevil and the fruit fly fail to take a vacation in this country and work overtime everywhere abroad for the next three years, just to enable Chairman Legge & Co. to make good.

And, if so, will the farm voters realize in 1932 that it's Providence, and not the Republican party, they are indebted to? Ha, ha!

In appearance and manner, Chairman Legge is very typical of the International Harvester company's personnel—which is a compliment, too.

What the company is like, I don't know, but I have met its representatives over quite a bit of the globe—not only here, but in Europe, the Far East and South America, wherever farm machinery is sold—and often have thought how uniformly fine a corps they are. So have others. They attract attention, their average is so high.

ALEXANDER LEGGE

As the International's president since 1922, and general manager for a decade before that, not to mention several important jobs still earlier, Mr. Legge must have had a lot to do with selecting them; Chicago, his headquarters, dispatches them hither and yon.

It speaks well for a boss to have recruited such a picked lot of hired men—from district managers down to work-a-day mechanics out in the sticks the whole world 'round.

A big six-footer, or over, is Chairman Legge. He looks in prime condition, and although he carefully omits the date of his birth from "Who's Who," he looks to be about 50 years old—but he must be older than that, unless he began work for the original McCormick Harvester company in Omaha at an unusually early age, because that was in 1891.

Mr. Legge is the only member of the new board who is not a practical dirt farmer.

He is the board's "big business" man.

He resembles a dirt farmer, however, more than any of the rest.

Some of them are pretty spruce. Not that Mr. Legge is not spruce also, but in an unconventional way.

He has a weather-beaten smooth-shaven face, with a rather unusually jutting Roman nose, and hayseed would not look out of place in his hair.

He receives callers in rolled up shirt sleeves.

In speech he is friendly and democratic—no swank, no airs.

A fine, competent, companionable chap, as like as two peas to any one of a dozen or twenty International mechanics I have drunk beer with in the Balkans and the Argentine Republic and (pre-war, of course) out in Nebraska's many's the time.

The farm board, he said, has not yet decided by just what means it will rescue agriculture.

What of it, anyway?—with the luck it's going to have.

They say Chairman Legge pronounces his name "Leggy." He will get over that. I heard about 40 people address him while I was there and they called him "Mr. Leg"—every one.

New England Apple Crop Below Normal

(International News Service)

BOSTON, July 23.—New England's apple crop this year will again fall short of the high average set between the years of 1923-27. Although the commercial crop promises to be 13 per cent greater than the usually light yield of last year, it will still fall about 13 per cent below the average of the five year 1923-27 period. So reports the federal crop reporting service of the Agricultural Department.

Moderate increases this year in Vermont, Massachusetts and Rhode Island will be offset by smaller crops in New Hampshire and Connecticut. The yield if forecast as 1,871,000 barrels as compared to 1,479,000 barrels in 1928 and 1,822,000 in the five years period.

The outlook for the McIntosh crop is, in most sections, the brightest. Baldwin indicate only a light crop in most of the sections specializing in this variety. Moderate crops are expected of the early varieties, such as Astrachans, Duchess, and Gravensteins.

While the New England peach crop is also expected to fall below the average this season, the yield of pears will probably be larger than the crop of the past few years.

Of the other staple crops, an increase is forecast for corn, potatoes and tobacco, while the volume of the hay and onion crops is expected to decline somewhat. Shortage of June rainfall accounts for the mediocre hay yield, the condition of the hay being 85 per cent as compared to 96 per cent of a year ago. The decrease in the onion crop is laid to the reduction of acreage devoted to onions this year. Set onions are making good progress.

Despite an acreage reduction of 3 per cent the New England tobacco crop will yield considerably more than last year, due to increased production increased production in Connecticut.

British Visitors Strong For Sodas

LYNN, Mass., July 22.—The British are famed as tea drinkers but the Marchioness of Townshend, mayor of King's Lynn, England and her fourteen-year-old son, the Marquis Townshend, like the American ice cream sodas, too.

A peak at the bill at a Swampscott hotel on the seaside, where the Marchioness and Marquis stayed while the guests of this city at the tercentennary celebration, revealed this item:

Ice cream soda and tea service $63.35.

The laundry bill totalled $25 and it cost $6 to keep the royal boots and shoes shined.

The suite of rooms at the hostelry for the two weeks' stay cost $60 a day. This, in fact, was the largest item on the bill which ran to $690.

The bill was paid by Benjamin N. Johnson, chairman of the celebration committee, but as the Marchioness was the guest of the city Mayor Ralph S. Bauer has insisted that the money be taken from the Lynn coffers.

Letter Of Thanks Sent By Col. Knox

Commends Local Reserve Officers And Citizens For CMTC Work Here

Pat J. Dempsey secretary of the local Reserve Officers association has received a letter of thanks from Col. Robert Knox, C. M. T. C. officer of the National C. M. T. C. headquarters at Baltimore, stating that the commanding general extends his thanks to Mr. Dempsey and the members of the organization for the generous support given during the previous C. M. T. C. procurement campaigns.

"The many agencies which have assisted in this work are known only to the county chairman and the committee and is is desired to express the appreciation of this headquarters to them" Col. Knox writes.

Through the splendid efforts extended here the C. M. T. C. quota for Lawrence county was greatly exceeded and many who made application were turned away because the quota had already been filled.

Shades of Leander

Famed for its heavy cross tides and treacherous currents, the Hellespont defied swimmers up to the time of the mythical Leander of Greece. Then came Lord Byron and later Richard Halliburton. Several college students performed the feat last year. Now three college girls have beaten the channel, Lucy Hancock, of University, Va., from Vassar, and two Smith College girls, Eleanor Stutley of Wellesley, Mass., and Eugenie Paterson, above, also of Wellesley, Mass. The three girls are on an Aegean cruise.

Special Water Sports At Y. W. Camp Saturdays

Each Saturday it is planned to have something special in water sports at the Y. W. C. A. camp, East Brook.

Last Saturday the special sports included a balloon game in the water and a soap relay. In the balloon game each girl had a balloon fastened to her bathing suit. The idea is to break each other's balloons the girl going the farthest distance with her balloon is the winner in the game. Helen Sedicoss was winner of this game.

The soap relay race was another enjoyable feat. The idea was to swim and push a cake of soap with the chin. Lillian Friedman proved the winner in this sport.

As planned there is to be some unusual sport in the water each Saturday afternoon. For next Saturday it is planned to have some folk dancing in the water.

RUBIN AND CHERRY SHOWS GALA OPENING

Is Highly Successful Event Last Nite.

One of the largest crowds that has ever attended an outdoor event in New Castle and vicinity was on hand last night at the first night opening of the Rubin and Cherry Shows which was an auspicious event. The midway which is the largest and greatest ever on tour, is located on the Mahoning avenue circus grounds, and is the largest portable park ever presented on tour, with sixteen of the largest and newest rides, and twenty-four high class feature attractions, that met with the approval of last nights crowds.

Unlike the average "carnival," the Rubin and Cherry entourage is distinctly different, since no gambling games or concessions are permitted to operate on the show grounds. There is class and distinction to the Rubin and Cherry brand of midway, each attraction being carefully censored and as amusement purveyors, the management are proud of the slogan, "The Aristocrat of the Tented World."

Massive gold and silver embossed show fronts, a galaxy of rides including the new "Rider-O; the Lindy Loop, Waltzer, Dodgem, Dangler, Hey Dey, Caterpillar, and others combined with the largest ensemble of meritorious attractions, are the magnets that will draw the crowds to the Mahoning avenue circus grounds every night this week until Saturday at midnight when the weeks engagement will close.

Among the popular attractions are the Royal Midget Circus with tiny lilliputians, from the "old country"; Shirley Francis and her Style Revue and Water Circus; the Frontier Rodeo and Wild West Roundup; Circus Side Show and Trained Wild Animal Arena; Wonderland, Bug House, A Night in Harlem, Jazzer, Hawaiian Paradise Revue, Count Olaf, "Viking Giant", Alpine, 702 pound Florida fat girl, Major, largest gorilla in captivity; Alice, the Wonder Girl, Revelation, Fun on the Farm, the "Idol Worshippers" featuring a 27 foot boa constrictor; Monkey Autodrome, and many other stellar attractions all worth a visit.

Grande And Carpentero Battle To Draw

Filipinoes Stage Vicious Encounter

Sammy Harris' Science Carries Him To Victory Over Sammy Lupica In Classy Six Round Semi-Final; Munroe And Huske Put Up Whirlwind Fight And Munroe Gets Decision; Taggart Stops Warren Farrow In Third And Bat' Terry's protege, Billy Murphy Wins By Technical Knockout Over Johnny Lang In Second Round; Murray Gitlitz To Meet Billy Jones In A Heavyweight Bout Monday Night.

By ED. FRITZ

Luis Carpentero, Toledo and Frisco Grande, Buffalo, 116 and 115, last night fought a gruelling 10 round battle at the Jolly bowl and at the end of thirty minutes fighting the bout was called a draw. The decision satisfied everybody and when the fans filed out of the palace of swat they were of the opinion that it was one of the greatest battles staged at the bowl, widely known for its good fights.

There was not one dull moment in the entire show and all of the boys on the card snapped into the going. In the main bout the Filipino rivals displayed unusual cunning, a nimbleness of hand and foot that surprised their most ardent admirers and every punch they tossed carried dynamite. At different times each Grande and Carpentero showed the effects of the heavy punching.

Grande depended mostly on a stiff right hook to the stomach while Carpentero used a left to the jaw. They jabbed, crossed and upper cut until they had the fans in a frenzy of fistic delight. In the fifth round they fought toe to toe for the entire three minutes. The crowd yelled for Referee Chip to let them fight it out and despite the unusual pace in the fifth they contained their tactics in the sixth round.

Fight Like Terriers

To be frank they fought like pit terriers. Owing to both being Filipinoes each was anxious to win and the thrills that were promised came quick and frequent. In an exchange in the eighth round Carpentero hit low and Grande went to the floor. Referee Chip counted to three and Grande arose and resumed fighting. An examination after the fight showed a dented cup. The blow's force was broken by the cup.

As soon as he recovered from the punch he tore into Carpentero and they whaled each other with every punch they had and the end of the round found the fans cheering frantically. In the ninth they stood and banged away and in the tenth they fought like two terriers trying to secure possession of a bone. For sheer blow for blow fighting las night's main bout was the berries.

Harris Wins Bout

Sammy Harris, Akron, a head taller than Sammy Lupica, Toledo put on a six round sizzler that was as good as any of the main bouts which have been staged here. Fighters are matched according to poundage and Lupica thought he would have a cinch throwing overhand punches at Harris' jaw. He did many times with effect but Harris proved the foxier and better boxer and it was his science that carried Harris to a decision. They are junior lightweights. Harris may box Tony Herrera here.

Frank Munroe, Pittsburgh and Knockout Huske, Akron, middleweights put up a sensational slugging duel for six rounds and the decision unanimously went to Munroe. Frank forced the fighting throughout. At various times they traded punches and generally Huske broke ground. But he gave Munroe so close a fight in the last rounds that some of the fans believed that a draw would have been a better verdict than an award to Munroe, but Munroe's early edge evidently was the deciding factor.

"Chuck" Stops Farrow

Chuck Taggart, the tiger boy of Butler and Warren Farrow, New Castle, light-heavyweights clashed in the second four round bout and Farrow was knocked out in the third round. A right to the jaw sent him down and when his head hit the floor Referee Chip would not have needed counting had he elected to pass up the toil. Both swung like gates but they pleased the fans.

Battling Terry, former lightweight sent his Billy Murphy, New Castle, 142, into into the ring against Johnny (Dutch) Lang of Ellwood City and Murphy won by a technical knockout in the second round. They put up a fight that was full of action until the second when a right to the jaw put Lang down for two. He was groggy when he got up and was sent down again. The battle was stopped.

Every Contest Pleases

The battles last night were good and every fan who failed to be in his accustomed seat missed an evening's evenin' that is still the talk of the town. Next Monday night, however, they will get a chance to see a heavyweight show in which Murray Gitlitz, New York and Billy Jones, Philadelphia, heavyweights of note will head the card, which will be a banner pugilistic show.

The bouts were handled by Deputy Commissioner Gardner of McKeesport who made his first appearance here. He was well pleased with the conduct of the fans and the dispatch with which the fights were staged. George Chip was the third man. The judges were Faella and Tommy Dugan. Pete Capitola tapped the bell and Buas Walthers was the stentorian. Bill Jolly promoted the bouts.

Cascade Team Is Winner In Battle With Post Office

The Cascade A. C. team defeated the post office team, 19 to 3, in a City-County game, played at the Cascade Field on Saturday afternoon. The Cascade boys made merry at the expense of the Mail Carriers.

Wilson on the hill for the post office was found for eighteen hits, the Cascade team bunching hits in the fourth and sixth to score eight runs. The Mail Carriers had five errors, which didn't help matters any.

Martin, Gormeal, Rehill and Neyman had extra-base blows. Davis and Liversage on the hill for the Cascade team pitched a fine brand of ball giving but six hits.

The Cascade team would like to meet the Italian A. A. team any night next week, according to Manager Clingensmith today.

Schmeling-Sharkey Go Will Either Be Held In Chicago Or Detroit

Regardless Of What New York Boxing Board Does, Big Bout Will Leave Metropolis

Chicago And Detroit Are Strongest Bidders For Big Heavyweight Show

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, July 23.—Regardless of whether the New York boxing commission decides today to do something or nothing, which undoubtedly is the thing it does best, the Schmeling-Sharkey fight will be announced within a week for an out-of-town locale, probably Chicago. That's my story and you can go and sing the contralto accompaniment with Sweeney's boarder right out there where everybody can hear you. The business is on like a shirt in public and everyone knows it, even the New York boxing commission, which is generally supposed to be under contract to know nothing all day long.

The Garden Corporation, threatened with everything except a night in the workhouse unless it plays nine full innings of ball with the commission on the Schmeling suspension, has reached into the limbo of things almost forgotten and—up it comes with a joker. The latter is nothing more than the old army favorite, known as the "dummy" promoter.

History To Encore.

History thus is about to play itself another encore. In 1926, the late Mr. Rickard found that he was as welcome as writ of mandamus, whatever that is, with his first Tunney-Dempsey fight and so he borrowed the name of a Philadelphia promoter, put on his fight there and split everything two ways—one way for each pocket. The next year, he chose Chicago as his site and Mr. George F. Getz as his "dummy" promoter. His choice was excellent in both respects, That is to say, Chicago gave entire satisfaction and so did Mr. Getz.

Anyhow, this was lese majesty in its most malignant form, yet if the commission ever did anything about the matter, it forgot to notify the Garden Corporation. As a matter of fact, the commission went to both fights, if I recall the incident correctly. It probably went in a high dudgeon, but that is largely a matter of taste. Most people prefer to go in a taxicab.

In any case, a precedent was established and that's all this man they call Bill Carey needs. He may not know much about boxing but he knows that precedent is something that proves you are right even if you happen to be wrong.

Getz Smart Promoter.

He also knows Mr. Getz, a responsible Chicago business man, from past associations at the 1927 fight and realizes that he can be relied upon to go in there without a warm up and "dummy" with the best of them. Unless an overnight change of plans is effected, the fight again will go to Chicago, Boston, it is understood, had been considered but there was no one but the Boston Garden people to play with and that would look too much like a meeting under the stands. Philadelphia was mentioned as having a chance but, somehow, the proposition never got to first base.

Detroit and Chicago are the odds-on favorites and always were. They like Detroit around the Garden but it lacks one essential. It hasn't a local Mr. Getz. It boasts a Mr. Dick Dunn but the latter is presumed to have something of a tie-up with the Garden and again this would look like signals in the backfield. Besides, the boys don't want a professional promoter. He might begin getting ideas, being somewhat overdue, and start promoting all over the place. What they want is a promoter who thoroughly understands that he isn't to be caught at it.

Church League

Two games are billed tonight in the New Castle Church league. The games are scheduled to start at 6:30 o'clock. The Congregationals meet the First Christians at Mahoning field with McCombs the umpire. The First Baptists will play the Mahoning M. E. team at Croton field with Bishop assigned to work the game.

Three Candidates Named As Official For Detroit Fight

(International News Service)

DETROIT, July 23.—The question of the third man in the ring for the Dundee-Fields welterweight title fight Thursday night was met today by Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons. He named three candidates, and from that number will be chosen the man who will officiate.

The trio were E. W. Dickerson, boxing writer of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Elmer McClelland and Al Day of Detroit. Michigan law provides that unless the promoter names the referee 48 hours before a fight, the boxing commission appoints him.

Max Waxman, managing Joe Dundee, the welter champion, and Gig Rooney, managing Jackie Fields, the challenger, will agree on one of the three named by Fitzsimmons and their selection will be made known to the boxing commission.

Heeney-Campolo Signed To Fight

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 23.—Victorio Campolo, the 6 1-2 foot pyramid of the Pampas, will get his first real test in an American ring when he fights Tom Heeney, New Zealand heavyweight, at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, on August 14. The men were signed by Promoter Humbert Fugazy. Ten rounds is the scheduled distance.

Two Games In Lawrence Loop

Two fast games are on tap tonight in the Lawrence County League. The games will start at 6:30 o'clock, daylight savings time.

The Hillsville team goes to the Clifton Flats field to battle the Slovaks team, with Nolte and McCann assigned to this game.

The Wampum team with Robertson at the helm will go to Bessemer to tangle with the great little Bessemer crew. The umpires are Hudson and Calzza. The Bessemer team has been going good in the second-half and are out to defeat Wampum tonight. Manager Robertson and his hustling Wampumites may have other plans, who knows?

Admit Ladies Free

Wednesday evening the Italian A. A. team meets their rivals the Slovaks at Centennial Field. Calzza and Hudson will work the game.

Carm Sacco, business manager of the Italians said today that for the balance of the year, the ladies will be admitted free of charge to all Lawrence County League battles. A good crowd is expected to witness the Italian-Slovak game Wednesday. Both teams have plenty of supporters.

The P. R. R. team battles the Hillsville team, at the Hillsville field on Wednesday night. McCann and Nolte are to officiate. The P. R. R. team is in a slump, and they hope to emerge tomorrow night, and down the fast traveling Hillsville outfit.

Is Sport Speeding Up?

Speed in sport? Why, they're even trying to inject it into chess nowadays, according to Mr. George Timpson, the New York Newspaper Club authority on that game! There's a proposal to limit the masters to 15, instead of 30, minutes an average move. Speeding up the wrestlers, if that be possible, will come next, no doubt.

As for the sports activities that demand speed primarily, never has there been such intensive effort to shatter all former records.

George Simpson, Ohio State flash, gave the world its biggest athletic thrill in generations when he did the 100-yard dash in 9 2-5 seconds, clipping that "impossible fifth" from the old world record. Bracey, Tolan and almost a dozen other exceptional college sprinters are right on Simpson's heels.

Though expert knowledge of the human physique decries a nine-second 100-yard dash as an utter impossibility, such opinion will not retard the attempts to achieve that on the part of our human antelopes. Simpson strained one of his legs in setting that 9 2-5 mark. And none will be surprised if the speedster who eventually does the 100 in 9 1-5 hurts both legs! Should anyone ever achieve it in nine seconds flat, he will be a most extraordinary physical freak. Yet most of the normal sprinters will keep on trying and trying to lengthen their stride to the necessary eyelash length which would spell in time the elusive fraction separating 9 2-5 from that "impossible" 9 seconds flat.

Of all the human speedsters, the public is most anxious to see the baseball pitchers sizzle 'em across. Ask any big league fan who has the fastest ball today and the majority will name "Lefty" Grove of the Philadelphia Athletics, though a strong minority contends that "Dazzy" Vance of Brooklyn is still the steam king o' old. When one weighs the fact that canny Connie Mack, who once had "Rube" Waddell, thinks Grove has even more speed through the innings than the most eccentric and historic of his southpaw rifles, a neutral judge may decide that "Lefty" is probably the speediest of the 1929 pitchers.

When it comes to the motors that whiz cars and boats through space with dazzling celerity, the names Segrave, Campbell and Gar Wood symbolize speed itself in this age.

Baseball's "lively ball" also may be considered as evidence of the public's demand for speed and—

Even the six-day bike racers have been indulging in lap-stealing rampages of late.

"But why bring that up?" as Mr. Moran might say to Mr. Mack while carving the name "Speed" on the shell of his pet racing turtle!

Cleveland Seeks Better Position

Indians Tangle With Macks Today, Hope To Land In Third Place Soon

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 23.—A new set of intersectional engagements in the big leagues gets under way in full blast today with the clashes between the Giants and the Cubs, Detroit and the Yankees, and Cleveland and the Athletics featuring the card.

With the dynasty of the Yankees apparently ended, the spurt of the Cleveland club is providing most of the fireworks in the American League. During their home stand just concluded the Indians won ten out of seventeen games. And took fourth place away from Detroit.

Good Pitchers

The Indians are now hopeful of overtaking the third-place Browns. They boast a formidable hurling corps in Ferrell, Miller, Hudlin, Shaute, Zinn and Miljus, and a quartet of sweet hitters in Fonseca, Falk, Morgan and Averill.

The millionaires associated with the club have been shipping currency by the bale in exchange for new talent and the splurge is beginning to bear fruit. Another load of high grade ivory is to be imported next year, when the team may be ranked as a bona-fide pennant contender.

In the only game played yesterday, the Pirates increased their lead over the Cubs to a game and a half by slaughtering the Brooklyns, 13 to 3. Sparky Adams led the parade with four hits, and in the fourth inning the Bucs hopped on Moore and Dudley for seven runs. Brame pitched for the winners and was never in danger.

Croton Defeats Mahoning 8 To 6

The Croton M. E. team downed the Mahoning M. E. team 8 to 6, in a New Castle Church League game, played at the Seventh Ward field on Monday evening. Croton won the game by bunching hits in the third and sixth frames.

Culbertson and Mazzale were the opposing pitchers and honors went to the former. Culbertson allowed ten hits and fanned eight men. Mazzale pitched a great brand of baseball, giving up eleven hits, and striking out thirteen batters. Five errors marred the game somewhat.

Culbertson had a triple for the longest hit of the game. Miller had the only other extra-base hit, a double.

First Methodists Trample Baptists

Two New Church League Records Hung Up By Methodist In 21-2 Victory

The First Methodist baseball team hung up a pair of records for the New Castle church league boys to shoot at last evening at the Croton field when they downed the First Baptists 21 to 2. The game only went five innings.

The Methodists went wild in the third inning and tallied a grand total of 13 runs before the side was retired. If ever the fire department was needed it was last night in that third chapter. Also, the Methodists had a grand total of 21 runs in five innings, with but each player getting but four trips to the plate. Fifteen hits were secured off Kerr. The Baptists had two errors.

The losers could not hit Honkonen and Shoaf effectively and had but five safeties. Hughes, McKnight, Honkonen and Perry had doubles. Leonard and Dahlberg led the Methodists at bat with three hits apiece.

Veteran Pilot Asserts His Winning Ball Club Is Same As Last Year

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Central Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND, O., July 22.—What kind of a ball club is that one with which Connie Mack is headed for the American league pennant—his first since the demise of the old White Elephants in 1914?

It's just exactly the same team he had last year. And practically the same one he had the year before.

Which may be interesting news for the managers, members and followers of the seven other clubs in the league that are trying to overtake his outfit.

I talked to Connie about his club before the last game of their series with the Indians.

"I have a good ball club," said Connie. Which is real enthusiasm for the quiet old master.

"On paper it was the same team last spring that it was the year before. The difference is simply experience, and the fact that the boys have found themselves—have come to realize that they are good players.

"Grove did great work last year (he won 24 games for Connie) but he is doing even better this year because he has acquired more experience, more confidence in himself and a better knowledge of batters.

"Haas (playing great guns in the outfield and hitting brilliantly) was just as good a player before this season as he is now, except that he had not found himself.

"Jimmy Foxx is a great ball player in any position. He was bound to be better this year, because of a year's experience in the infield after starting out as a catcher.

"Earnshaw (young right-handed pitcher and one of Connie's Big Six) was inexperienced last year. He has had the feel of big league pitching now and is steady under fire.

"And the same things hold true regarding the others. It was simply a case of waiting for them to 'ripen,' and then convincing them that they could play the kind of baseball you need to be in a pennant fight. (Note that Connie hasn't accepted the pennant.)

"Many folks think that Jimmy Dykes is a better player this year than ever before. Dykes was always a good player. The reason that he did not play continuously was because of the fact that with him in the game I had no one for reserve strength. With him to fall back upon I could try out my infield combinations, knowing that I could call him into the game any time a combination didn't work.

"A lot of folks think that Ossie Orwoll has been a disappointment to us. Of course I counted on him at one time to play first base. But right now he is just as valuable to me on the bench. He is my first choice for the outfield whenever a shift is necessary. I can use him at first and he still can pitch when needed.

"Then there are Quinn, Rommel and Miller. All veterans who form an important part of any club. They can be depended upon to do the right thing at the right time. Haas, Miller and Simmons, of course, give us an outfield that is hitting the ball heavily and consistently—a vital necessity for a winning club.

"The boys just arrived, as I knew they would. They are playing the kind of ball it seemed certain they could play some day."

Nothing in the way of startling revelations in this interview, then, but the sanity of Connie's view, his appreciation of his players and their values may be the main tipoff as to the reasons for the showing of the Mackmen, now headed pell mell for a flag.

Andy DiVodi Wins Fight On Foul In Go With Ramies

(International News Service)

BRADDOCK, Pa., July 23.—Andy Di Vodi of New York, had another decision on a foul chalked up for him today, after his bout with Dick Ramies. In the sixth round last night the referee called one of several low blows shot out by the Mexican. Di Vodi was fouled in his last fight here by Buck McTiernan.

Ray Newton, Pittsburgh, knocked out Frankie Nanci, Swissvale, in the sixth. Jimmy Belmont, Braddock, took a six round decision over Joey Coolbaugh, Scanton. Cowboy Delucca and C. Montebano fought a six round draw.

Mushball League

The New Castle News mushball team of regulars will be extremely busy tonight. Two games are on tap. The first game starts at 6:30 sharp. The News meets the Firemen in a regularly scheduled game in the first contest and in the second game the Yanigan team from The News office selected by Gil Ross will try and take the honors from the regulars. Both games should be highly interesting.

The Shenango Tin Mill team meets the Lehigh Cement team this evening at the Lehigh field and tomorrow night the order will be reversed with the same two teams battling at the Colonial grounds. Both games will start at 6:30 o'clock. The Lehigh team is confident of stopping the mad rush of the Tin Wallopers in their quest for pennant honors in the second half. The Tin Mill team stands undefeated this season. The team that beats them must of necessity be good.

Pirates Beat Dodgers 13-3

Pirates Increase League Lead As Other Teams Are Kept Idle By Rain

Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, July 23; The Pittsburgh Pirates, leaders in the race for the 1929 pennant in the National League, celebrated their return to the home lot after a successful eastern invasion, yesterday afternoon, by dropping the Brooklyn Dodgers 13 to 3.

The Bushmen received a fine welcome by the Boosters of the team upon their arrival home Monday morning, and the praises of the team and managers was sung loud and long.

At the local ball orchard in the afternoon, the Pirates showed the Boosters and fans that they appreciated what had transpired in the morning hours, by pasting a handsome setback on the Dodgers.

Ervin Brame had the assignment to Fogarty Knoll and did a fine job holding the Brooklyn sluggers to ten hits. Moore, Dudley and Ballou paraded to the hill for the Dodgers, and all received a shellacking.

Earl Adams and Paul Waner worked their bludgeons overtime yesterday, to collect seven hits between them. Adams had four and "Big Poison" accounted for three safe blows.

The same two teams resume the series at Forbes Field today.

Opening Children's Camp For Summer

Miss Kildoo Announces Plan For Project At McConnell's Mills

Miss Isabel I. Kildoo-teacher-librarian in the public schools of Arizona for the past ten years passed through New Castle enroute by automobile to the home of her mother Mrs. J. M. Kildoo near McConnells Mill for the opening of Locust Heights camp for children this week, when a new building will be opened.

Miss Kildoo was accompanied by Miss Catherine Bennett of Pittsburgh, Pa., who has been spending the winter in Phoenix and Miss Ruth Caldwell of the Phoenix Union High school. Sleeping porches are featured in the new building and will accommodate 20 children.

Miss Kildoo will conduct a studio of Mexican and Indian crafts in connection with the camp which will be of interest to all art lovers. She is an active member of the Camel Back Women's club, Business and Professional Woman's club and will be extended many courtesies by local clubs before returning to Phoenix in the autumn.

Army Of Moccasins Along Florida Road

(International News Service)

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 23.—A veritable army of moccasins was fought by two Tallahassee motorists recently during a trip from here to a nearby city, and after the battle smoke had cleared 49 reptiles lay dead. The motorists escaped unscathed.

The battle began after the men ran over two large snakes sunning on the highway. When they stopped to make sure the snakes were dead, they were greeted by 47 young moccasins coming to the aid of their parents.

The travelers succeeded in killing all 49.

Phils See Hope In Thevenow's Return

By JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist Writer for Central Press

The return to Tommy Thevenow, star shortstop, to the lineup of the Philadelphia Nationals bids fair to strengthen the promise the team has already shown of emerging from the rut that has held Phillys teams for years.

Thevenow returned to the game a week or so ago to try his speed after a valiant fight to regain his health after an auto accident last spring which threatened even his life for a time.

Tommy was counted on to be the main spring of the highly advertised "New Phillies" under the diligent leadership of Manager Burt Shotton. The latter figured that Tommy, with his experience, would help Hurst, at first, and Whitney, at third, both of them rookies, to get their bearings.

Then came his accident.

Hurled into a ditch beneath a bouncing auto, Thevenow emerged with his face literally crushed in, his jaw broken, and a multitude of fractures and bumps all over his body.

When it finally became a certainty that he would live, his chances of regaining his old baseball form seemed remote. Efficient care and treatments brought him back.

Meanwhile the Phillies struggled ...g, and thanks to the playing of Hurst, Whitney, Klein, Yarlen and other bits of new blood injected into the team, the Quaker crew managed to reach mid season with a chance of staying out of last place to the finish. This chance is further strengthened by Thevenow's playing since his return.

Strange As It May Seem

John Picus (Jack Quinn) was a winner 'way back in 1908 .... The ancient Athlete hurler was then doing duty for the Richmond club of the Virginia league .... That year he hurled 14 games and won 12 .... The other two were ties .... Which gave Jack a percentage of 1,000 .... He never came near such a feat again in the following 20 years of active baseball work .... Quinn has been in baseball 26 years .... He began pitching for Connellsville in the Penn State league in 1903 .... That was the year before Ty Cobb broke into baseball.

Sheriff's Pistol Is Diamond Studded

(International News Service)

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 23.—The most expensive revolver in the middle west and perhaps in the entire country. That is the claim made by J. H. Burnett of El Reno, Okla., secretary of the Oklahoma's Sheriffs' and Peace Officers' association, who owns the valuable .44 calibre, double-lock pistol.

The pistol was given to him by an Oklahoma sheriff and a patrolman working under Burnett. The gun is studded with 57 rubies and 14 diamond chips. The barrel and carriage are nickel-plated while the magazine, trigger and lock are of gold. Nine one dollar gold pieces are inlaid in the pearl handle.

On one side of the handle of the weapon is a photograph of Burnett while on the other side the finger prints and lodge emblems of Burnett may be seen. The rubies, diamonds and gold pieces were gifts from admirers of Burnett.

Burnett first became an officer at the age of 19.

Movie Struck Girl Being Sent Home

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—Anticipation of a career in motion pictures faded today for Anna Bogden as she awaited arrival of a deputy sheriff from Ohio who will take her back to her father's home in Lakewood to face a charge of forging a check for $400.

AN ORDINANCE

Locating, ordaining and establishing a street to be known as Calvert Street, between West Washington Street and Glen Avenue, and establishing a grade thereon.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Council of the City of New Castle, Pa., that a public highway be located, ordained and established between the center line of West Washington Street and the center line of Glen Avenue of the width of eighteen and fifty-seven hundredths (18.57) feet along the following center line, namely:

Beginning at a point in the center line of West Washington Street, three hundred fifty-nine and ninety-seven hundredths (359.97) feet East from its intersection with the center line of Lee Avenue; thence North sixteen (16°) degrees, twenty-three and one-fourth (23¼') minutes West, three hundred forty-six and two hundredths (346.02) feet to a point in the center line of Glen Avenue; said street to be eighteen and fifty-seven hundredths (18.57) feet in width throughout at right angles to the center line thereof; and being nine and two hundred eighty-five thousands (9.285) feet on each side of the said center line; and being of the diagonal width of nineteen (19) feet along the North line of Washington Street and the South line of Glen Avenue.

SECTION 2. That the grade on the said street, between the said points, be fixed as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at the intersection of the North line of West Washington Street with the center line of Calvert Street, at an elevation of nine hundred fifty-seven and five-tenths (957.5) feet; thence descend at the rate of seven (7%) per cent for one hundred (100) feet to an elevation of nine hundred fifty and five-tenths (950.5) feet; thence descend by a veritical curve for one hundred (100) feet to an elevation of nine hundred forty-seven and ninety-seven hundredths (947.97) feet thence ascend at the rate of one and nine hundred fifty-three (1.953%) per cent for one hundred (100) feet to an elevation of nine hundred forty-nine and nine-tenths (949.9) feet at the South line of Glen Avenue.

I, Cordelia Zeigler Jones, City Clerk, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing ordinance has been regularly introduced and is now pending in the council of the city of New Castle, Pa. In witness whereof, I hereunto set my hand and affix the seal of the city, this 22nd day of July, 1929.

Army Expenses To Be Reduced

President Hoover To Put Drastic Regulations Into Effect

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 23.—President Hoover has determined to put into effect a drastic policy of reducing army expenses, it was announced today.

To that end he has ordered a commission set up within the general staff of the army to determine where the cuts can best be made. It is Mr. Hoover's idea to have this drastic economy policy apply to all military expenditures up to and including the fiscal year of 1932, which is the last year of his present term.

In his study of war department expenditures, the president said he had found that the annual United States military budget is the largest of its kind in the world—this at a time when the possibility of war is considered most remote.

J. O. Madden Heads Picnic Group Here

Thursday, July 25 will be an outstanding time for the members of the Mutual Benefit Association members of the Pennsylvania R. R., when the annual picnic of the association is held at Meyer's Lake, Canton, O. J. O. Madden, president of the local branch of the M. B. A. and also chairman of the picnic efforts in this district, is engaged in an effort to stir up interest and has succeeded to a very considerable extent. A special train will leave Sharon, Pa. for Canton, O. at 7:55 a. m., E. S. T., stopping in this city at 8:30 a. m. at the West Side station and at the Cherry street station at 8:35 a. m. to take on the several hundred people expected to attend from this city.

Gleason Takes Nine To Kennywood Park

L. C. Gleason, athletic director of the E. & A. Division of the Pennsylvania R. R. this morning went to the Kenneywood Park, Pittsburgh to attend the annual picnic of the P. R. R. employes of the eastern section of the Central Region being held at that place. He was accompanied by the E. & A. Division baseball team, which meets some good team of the other district.

Numerous Accidents Reported To Police

Considerable Damage Done To Machines But No One Is Injured

According to the reports made to the police, there have been numerous accidents occuring on the streets of the city in the past forty-eight hours. None were of a serious nature.

J. A. Bolingern, 939 Temple street, was enroute east on Lutton street at Washington street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license C 63-548 going south on Washington street and turning west on Lutton street, hit and damaged his car.

Reed Smith of 124 Park avenue, was enroute east on Park avenue at Logan street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license D 56-871 going west on Park avenue, ran into and damaging his machine.

Daniel Jenkins of 1210 Clearview avenue, reported that he was going east on Croton avenue at Duquesne street, and a car bearing Pennsylvania license S 8584 which had been parked on the left side of Croton avenue, pulled across Croton avenue to turn west on that street, causing him to hit and damage this machine.

D. Glassi, 823 Lathrop street, reported that he was going east on Washington street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 778-627 going in the same direction, hit the rear of his machine, doing some damage.

S. G. Brown of 629 Lathrop street, reported that he was going west on East Long avenue near S. Jefferson street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license B 45-717 going east on East Long avenue, ran into and damaged his car.

Norman Grimm, 406 Bell avenue, reported that he was driving the machine of Joseph Rigby of 404 Bell avenue east on West Madison avenue, at Liberty street and started across on the Green light, when the car of Tage Neese of Cleveland, O., going south on Liberty street, hit and damaged his machine.

Louisiana Fliers Forced To Land

Plane "KWKH" Fails To Gain Altitude After Being Refueled, Landing Is Made

(International News Service)

SHREVEPORT, La., July 23.—Curry Sanders and Van Lear Leary, forced down here last evening after having been aloft in the endurance plane KWKH for 128 hours and forty minutes, were enjoying a much-needed rest today preparatory to starting another attempt to break the record.

The plane, undamaged, landed at Steere Field here at 7:10 p. m., it had failed to gain altitude after being refueled.

CAR THIEF TAKEN

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—Shouts of David Kalson, as he looked from the window and saw a negro making away with his car, called Patrolman James McAfee today and resulted in arrest of the negro, police said. Stanton Bell, 21, was taken to Central police station and held as a suspicious person.

NEW YORK STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 23.—Electrical manufacturing and public utility stox led the way to higher prices in the first two hours of trading today, while industrial and railroad stox were again blockaded by a heavy load of profit-taking sales. Chrysler Motor recovered 2 points on the strength of its very favorable first half-year earnings statement, but General Motors dropped to a new low for the year at 56½ in the first period.

Sentiment over stock market movements was considerably mixed and confused as the big market swung into action, Bullish pools were in command of their own facorites, but outsiders were inclined to stand on the side lines. Money supplies still hold the key to the stock market situation.

General Electric raced up about 7 points to 367, setting up a new high record, Westinghouse meanwhile advancing 4 points to 206½. American and Foreign Power was the feature of the utilities, mounting 4 points to 134½. Engineers Public Service jumped 2 points to 70½; Columbia Gas 3 points to 89½ and Consolidated Gas 2½ at 150½.

After touching bottom at 66½ General Motors rallied a point or more, in company with Chrysler, but the balance of the motor list drifted through a narrow price range. Bears assert that the best of the motor earnings statements will be issued at this time and that the "news" on motors in the balance of the year will be unfavorable.

United States Steel led an aggressive upward move in the second hour and the Bears were forced to cover in General Motors and other stocks which have been under the hammer in the last week or two. Call money was unchanged at 7 per cent.

Body Of Suicide Found By Youth

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—When Herbert Kerkau, 16, was unable to open the basement door of his home here today to feed his canaries, he looked through a window and saw the body of Joseph Stern, 40, hanging from a door, he told police.

Stern, who had roomed at the Kerkau home for seven years, was ordered to leave a week ago when he struck Mrs. Kerkau with a club during a drinking spell, police learned. He left a note in German saying he intended to commit suicide and leaving all he had, $150 to Herbert.

Two Boys Held In Murder Case Given Freedom

West Virginia Judge Nolle Prosses Case Against Two Alleged Young Slayers

COMPANION BEATEN TO DEATH, CLAIM

(International News Service)

WELCH, W. Va., July 23.—The indictment charging Cornell Hamilton, 10, and his brother, Hobart, nine, with murdering their orphaned playmate, Raymond Colley, nine, had been lifted today and the children returned to their school and play.

Apparently little realizing the seriousness of the charges against them, their childish minds not comprehending that they were alleged to have beaten Colley to death and dumped his body in the river, the Hamilton boys had played pranks in jail and looked upon life as a rare good joke. Before they were brought into court other prisoners had complained of the levity of the boys and tricks they played on old prison offenders held in the jail.

Judge James A. Strother, when the indictment had been nolled in criminal court, returned the boys to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hamilton. Probation Officer W. T. Farley was appointed to act as a special guardian.

Victim Badly Beaten

The Colley boy had been living with a sister. On July 11 he disappeared from his home and two days later searchers found his body washed up in Dry Fork Creek at English, W. Va. An autopsy revealed that Colley apparently had been beaten to death and his body disposed of in the water.

Officers went to the Hamilton home and arrested the two brothers, who had chummed with Colley on fishing expeditions and on hikes along the banks of the creek. Apparently not realizing that they were accused of taking their chum's life, the boys were confined in county jail and an indictment was brought in for murder. Had they been tried and found guilty they would have been sentenced to the reform school until they reached the age of 21.

Prison Term For Beaver Falls Man

BEAVER, Pa., July 23.—Raymond Van Fossen, 21, of Beaver Falls, convicted at the December term 1928 of voluntary manslaughter in the killing of Thomas Stork, Beaver Falls today was sentenced by Judge Frank E. Reader to serve from four to eight years in the penitentiary. Before passing sentence the court stated it was impossible to explain a way that the defendant had gone down town armed wit ha revolver and and gave as his reason he was afraid he might meet Stork.

TELLS OF TRIP FROM WEST COAST

New Castle, Pa.
Dear Sir:—

I thought you might be somewhat interested in this trip, inasmuch as it was made by one of two local boys.

Yours truly,
CLARENCE M. ALLENDER,
832 Brown street,
Martinez, Cal.

Account of the hitch hiking trip of Clarence M. Allender and Clyde Cameron east from the west coast.

Sunday, June 16, 1929—Made Reno, Nev., the first day despite much snow, rain, sleet and very bad roads. We left Martinez about 7 a. m. and arrived in Reno at 5:30 p. m.

Monday, June 17.—Made about 50 miles to Fernley, after starting out at 6 a. m. Stuck here all day, no rides. Walked into desert and both of us got terribly sun-burned. Came back to Fernley and caught a freight train to Hazen. Paid $2.03 passenger fare to Lovelock, and ran around train to catch the "blinds", rode them from 12:30 to 5:30 a. m. next morning, being kicked off at Carlin, Nev.

Tuesday, June 18—Walked seven miles out of Carlin, then caught a freight train on the fly, and were kicked off at Elburg. Caught another to Monticello and then caught a fast mail and passenger train called "The Gold Coast Limited" into Ogden, Utah. Arrived there at 4:40 a. m. Haven't had any sleep for 48 hours. We were so sleepy that while we were on the last train we went to sleep on our feet and our knees would sag and wake us up.

Wednesday, June 19—Stayed in Ogden until 7 p. m. and went to Salt Lake City via rides.

Thursday, June 20—Left Salt Lake City and Clyde and I picked up a ride with a cowboy into Evanston, Wyo. A fellow gave him a motorcycle, which he asked me to ride in for him, which I did. He bought us our dinners. Clyde and I walked down to the railroad tracks and a train cop with a badge and plenty of authority told us to hurry and get off the railroad crossing. We didn't argue, we knew better. Picked up a car ride to Kemmerer and then another to a place called Opal. It was dark by this time so we caught the passenger and rode to Green River, Wyo., arriving there at 12:30 at night.

Traffic is terrible, no rides at all. It would cost us as much as passenger fare to stay here looking for a ride. Too many train "bulls" to hop a freight or a passenger so we paid our way to Cheyenne, arriving there at 10:55 at night. Population of Cheyenne is between 19,000 and 20,000.

Saturday, June 22—Got up at 7 a. m., shaved, went to the postoffice, ate and left Cheyenne about 8:30 a. m. Picked up about six rides, the last bringing us into Lexington, Neb., where we arrived at 11:15 and stayed all night.

Sunday, June 23—Got up about 9 a. m., picked up about three rides. The last one was a trip through Omaha, Neb., across the Missouri river to Council Bluffs, Iowa, where we arrived at 9:15 and stayed all night.

Monday, June 24—Got up at 6:45 a. m. and had breakfast. Clyde and I shook hands and said goodbye, he going east to Pennsylvania and I more southeast to Creston, Iowa, where I arrived at 1:30 in the afternoon.

I stayed in Iowa until Tuesday, July 2, 1929. Left Creston, Iowa, about 8:30. Arrived in Des Moines at 2:30. Looked the city over until 3:30. Picked up two rides into Chicago. Arrived there at about 2:30 a. m.

I stayed in Chicago until July 16.

Tuesday, July 16—Got up about 8 o'clock and went down to Chicago's stockyards. Visited Armour's plant until about 12 o'clock. Left Chicago about 1 o'clock. Got as far as 70 miles west of Detroit.

Wednesday, July 17—Picked up a ride in a Ford touring into Detroit. Arrived there at 9 o'clock. Went thru Ford's plant at Rouge which took one hour. Left Detroit for Toledo, O., at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Arrived in Toledo at 4 o'clock. Drove a fellow from Toledo to Cleveland and arrived there at 9:30 at night.

Thursday, July 18—Picked up a bunch short rides into Akron, O. Arrived there at 9 o'clock. Picked up about three rides into New Castle, Pa., arrived there at 2:30.

Total number of traveling days from San Francisco, Cal., to New Castle, Pa., nine.

Yours truly,
CLARENCE ALLENDER.

The New Castle News:
New Castle, Penna.
Dear Sirs:

It is with great pleasure that I fullfill the request of my brethern of The Etna Mineral Springs Bible Conference in sending to you their sincere appreciation and hearty thanks for the splendid publicity you have given the conference in your paper.

As other papers have kindly copied from the New Castle News your accounts of the progress of the conference have covered a wide area.

We feel that the excellent attendance is in a large measure due to the fact that you have kept the conference constantly before the people, resulting in their interest being increased and the attendance correspondingly enlarged. Thanking you personally and on behalf of the directors of the conference, I remain

Most Sincerely Yours,
Hiram H. Van Cleve
Secretary Etna Mineral Springs Bible Conference.

SEEKS TO LEARN VALUE

Wampum, Pa., July 22, 1929

New Castle News:

Having noticed two items in your paper about gold coins and their value. I noticed one of a $20 gold piece in the year of 1855 being worth $7,000. Was wondering what the value of a $1 gold piece in the year of 1852 was worth, as I am the owner of a $1 gold coin of the year of 1852. It has been in my possession of almost 20 years.

Mrs. C. H. Kelly,

CONVENTION AT GROVE CITY

District Christian Endeavor To Be Entertained Next Sunday; Other News

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, July 23.—On Sunday July 28 the Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church will entertain the members of the July conference of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor Union. The program will be opened at 3 o'clock and will continue throughout the afternoon including the union vesper service. State Secretary Warren C. Hoopes will address the closing session of the conference.

The conference sessions will be devoted to echoes from the International Societies of Christian Endeavor which met the first of the month in Kansas City. Delegates and state officers will present the various challenges at the Kansas City convention.

The Northwestern district includes the six counties of Northwestern Pennsylvania and basing the estimate on previous conferences not less than 150 Christian Endeavor leaders will be in attendance. A cordial invitation is extended to all young people's organizations to unite with the Christian Endeavor society in the fun and fellowship of the conference.

The regular meeting of the King's Daughters of the United Presbyterian church was held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. John Campbell of Bessemer avenue. Miss Betty Campbell a missionary from India gave an illustrated lecture during the meeting.

The Grove City Rotary Club has chosen July 30 as the date of their annual picnic which will be held at Memorial park. Losers of the recent membership under the direction of Fred Mills are the committee appointed to take care of the picnic.

The Silver Leaf club wil hold their annual picnic and outing Tuesday evening in Memorial park.

The Rebekas lodge of this place will hold their regular meeting this evening at 7:30 p. m. District Deputy Clara Stakleum of Grove City will install Mrs. Grace Osborne as secretary for the next six months.

Rev. E. C. Howe of Clarksville, Ark., delivered the sermon at the First Presbyterian church Sunday. Rev. Howe filled the pulpit while Dr. Charles Williamson the pastor is on his vacation. Rev. Howe is a former Grove City resident.

Misses Martha and Ada Conner of Center street entertained a few guests Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Vance a recent bride and groom.

Italian opera directors say that they will hire no more fat tenors. But there'll still be tenors, so there isn't much solace in that.—The Bay City Daily News.
